Foreword

*I*N conformity with custom the ROCHELLEAN is published each year. It grows larger with every publication, which is evidence of the growth of the New Rochelle High School. This growth does not mean that quality has been sacrificed for the sake of quantity; it would be nearer the truth to say that quantity has attracted quality. No finer type of young American manhood and womanhood can be found in scholarship, sports, or in social life, than that represented here.

We earnestly hope that this survey of the school year's activities will serve to keep fresh in the minds of those who refer to it later in life, pleasant memories of their school days—days that are full of the joy of living.

FREDERICK GEORGE FROST, JR.

Princeton

Here's our president and not a bit high hat, as everybody knows who ever saw him. You've heard of kings who dressed as peasants and chatted in the market places with their subjects. Not many class presidents condescend to do that, but our "Fritz" is friendly to everybody—one reason why the seniors had such a wonderful year. We could tell Princeton what they're getting when they get Fred, but they'll find it out soon enough themselves.

President of Class, 3, 4; Editor of Class Issues of P. & W., 3, 4; Class Parties Committee, 1, 2; Second Crew, 3; Freshman Football, 1; Basketball, 4; Crew, 4; Scholarship, 1, 2, 3; Vice-President of House, 1; Dramatic Association, 3, 4; French Club, 3, 4; Associate Editor of P. & W., 3; Sports Editor, 2; Chairman of Students' Day Committee, 4; Herald-Tribune Essay Prize, 4; Commencement Speaker.

JAMES MACFARLANE

University of Michigan

Jimmie has shown us that it can be done. We expect him to show some other people how it can be done, when he's working as a business administrator. Some day when Jimmie is on the New York Stock Exchange you can say, "I used to go to school with that fellow." We, along with the rest of the world, are betting on you, Jimmie.

Vice-President, 4; Class Representative to Purple & White, 2, 3; Non-Athletic Representative to G. O., 3; Basketball-Varsity, 3; Track, 3, 4; Class Baseball, 1; Dramatic Club, 4; Scholarship Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Library Club, 4; Track Club, 3, 4; Business Writing Club, 1; Senior Play Committee, 4; Senior Dance Committee, 4; Chairman Handbook Committee, 4; President Scholarship Club, 4; Year Book Staff, 4; Assistant Editor of Junior Issue of Purple & White, 3; Students' Day Committee; Commencement Speaker.

HELEN LAYCOCK

Alviere School

Sometimes our eyes become tired looking for pretty things with which to rest them. At such times we look at Helen, an excellent remedy. Try it. There are very few school organizations to which Helen doesn't belong, just as there are many lines of work which she is fitted to follow later on. We recommend secretarial work. Why? Read the first sentence of this over again.

Secretary of Class, 4; Senior Council, 4; Traffic Squad, 4; Dramatic Club, 3, 4; Major's Club, 4; House, 1; Scholarship Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Court of Honor, 3, 4; President of Dramatic Club, 4; Chairman of Class Day Committee, 3; Senior Play, 4; Senior Dance, 4; Students' Day Committee, 4; Pin and Ring Committee, 4; Commencement Speech.

RICHARD T. GEOGHEGAN

West Point, '27

So our amiable Dick is going to West Point. A great feeling of relief surges over us. We had feared that he was going to be a popular song writer, and we knew all the time he was fitted for far greater work than that. And now we are glad to learn that he is striking as high as any boy can. Keep up the good work, O, Dick of the pleasant temper!

Secretary-Treasurer of Class, 1, 2; Treasurer of Class, 4; Asst. Mgr. of Track, 3; Manager of Track, 4; Dramatic Club, 4; Senior Play, 4; Junior Prom Committee, 3; Chairman of Senior Dance, 4; Class Party Committee, 1, 2, 3; Composer of Class Song, 1.

MARGARET ALLEN

Froebel League

Peggy is a sweet, charming girl, with a way of spreading sunshine that is all her own. She says her chief accomplishment is dishwashing. Now we wonder just what she means? High School is a place to prepare for future life, but who ever heard of studying the fine art of dishwashing? Peggy plays the piano and is altogether a very lovely girl to know.

Basketball, 4; French Club, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3, 4; Lost and Found, 3, 4, 5; Handbook Committee, 4; Students' Day Committee, 5.

KENNETH LERARD ANDERSON

Dartmouth

Somebody said Ken is an actor, a singer, an athlete, an orator, a composer and a fine student. He writes real music and we look for a period of cut-throat competition when he gets out into the musical world. Heavens! what are WE doing in a class with him? (Chorus: So say we all of us.) P. S.—Kenneth, we realize that last was plagiarism, and assume all responsibility. Anyway, it wasn't from one of your songs.

G. O. Representative, 1, 3; Cheerleader, 2, 3, 4; Class Basketball, 2, 3; Baseball Squad, 3, 4; Asst. Mgr. Baseball, 3; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Traffic Squad, 2, 3; French Club, 4; Dramatic Club, 3, 4; Junior Prom Committee, 3; Chairman of G. O. Membership Committee, 3.

PETER EDWARD ANDERSON

University of Michigan

Pete plays a little football, habla un poco? de español, and sings. He took part in our operettas and is a shining star of the Glee Club. Among his numerous accomplishments, he says he can whistle and play the harmonica. We take our hat off to you, Pete, and we hope our hair doesn't come off with it, for you are the first we have heard who can really PLAY the harmonica. We were going to mention his hobby of canoeing under the moon, but decided not to.

Class football, 2; Second Team Football, 3; Glee Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3.

CORNELIA SUSAN AUSTIN

Art School

We have heard people speak of black-eyed Susans, but we never thought there could be one as lovely as this one. "Neila" says she's going to art school. When you need a pretty model just look in the mirror, Neila.

Vice-President of Mandolin Club, 3; French Club; Dramatic Club; Mandolin Club; Traffic Squad.

CHARLOTTE HUDSON BARCK

Wellesley

Slim is such a dear, quiet creature that we were astonished out of our wits (now we're sure we have some), when she calmly announced that she was "wild" about horseback riding. "My kingdom for a horse," says she, knowing perfectly well that no one would take a cent from her in exchange for anything. You'd give her anything she asked for—that's the way she makes you feel. Isn't it so?

French Club; Dramatic Club.

RUTH MILDRED BAUMANN

A poet would say, "As fair as the morning, as sweet as a blush-rose, as fresh as the dew (don't misinterpret this), with eyes that shine as sapphires of an heavenly shade," but we say, "A nice girl and a cute one," and let it go at that. It's all the same.

Tennis, 2, 4; Volleyball, 2; French Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club, 3, 4; Library Club, 3, 4.

ALFRED A. BEAN

University of Maine

Beans is a boy of the great out-doors. Swimming, hunting and golf are among his hobbies, but in contrast to this, he's fond of dancing and plays violin. We think that's a rather interesting combination. He intends to make Forestry his life work.

Track, 2; Football, 3; House, 1.

FLORENCE A. BEERS

Smith

Florence plans to take up either welfare work or designing after four years of college. Since she likes swimming and other out-door sports, is interested in sketching, and plays the "uke," of course, Toddy is good company.

House, 1; Dramatic Club, 3, 4; Library Club, 4; Red Cross Club, 3, 4; French Club, 3; Traffic Club, 4.

CARL W. BEHREND

Carl is a happy fellow, always ready to "swap wise cracks" with you. And he swapped many a good tackle with N. R.'s football opponents, too, besides being on the interclass baseball and basketball teams. Altogether, he was a worthy and valuable member of our class.

Varsity Football, 3; Interclass Baseball, 4; Interclass Basketball, 4.

MOLLIE FRANCES BELFIORE

Springfield Memorial Hospital

"Molly-O" of the "raven-black hair and eyes" intends to be a nurse. Wouldn't you like to be one of her patients, though! And hush! don't breathe it to a soul. She Charlestons! But seriously, Mollie, haven't you taken enough Regents to resolve to be thru with operations for life?

Spanish Club, 4; Dramatic Club, 4.

LUCILLE BERGMAN

Lucille comes from a suburb of New Rochelle, Pelham. She evidently was attracted by the great magnet in New Rochelle (we speak of Loew's), and hence moved to a closer proximity to it. Being interested in art, and intending to become an artist, she naturally is interested in all the beautiful. Therefore we are not surprised to find that she was cast in last year's marvelous, eye-opening Pageant. Now we are surprised, because of her interest in beauty, to find her frequently riding in Fords.

Class Basketball, 2; Class Baseball, 2; Class Volleyball, 3; Scholarship Club, 4.

MARSHALL C. BERMAN

Columbia

There are some who are athletic, there are others who possess dramatic and theatrical ability, and there are still others who study and reap ample reward. In the last group we are greatly pleased to include "Marsh." He has remained in the Scholarship Club for four years. Evidently Spanish and Debating are his favorites for he also has been affiliated with "El Circulo Castellano" and the "Kuarreling Klub" for the past four years. His ambition is to do "advertising work." We are not sure whether he means to go around sticking "Bull Durham" ads on every fence and telegraph pole or intends to immediately become President of O. J. Gude.

Scholarship Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; House, 1; Senate, 2, 3, 4; Library Club, 3, 4; Students' Day Committee, 4.

SYDNEY BERNSTEIN

University of Pennsylvania

One of our heavyweights. He weighs a lot in other ways besides football. You should see him tackle an algebra problem. Lucky for the Board of Regents that they don't have to distribute the papers themselves—one look at Sid's he-man shoulders and they'd go back and make the exam a little less stiff. Sid qualifies for another kind of athletics, more on the gymnastic style: he's a pianist. At Pennsylvania he's going to study medicine.

Football Squad, 3; Crew Squad, 4; Class Football, 2; Library Club; Scholarship Club; Dramatic Club, 3, 4; Senate; French Club; Senior Play, 4; Senior Play Committee, 4.

OLINSKA BERRYMAN

Geneseo Normal

Olinska's nickname, Babe, does not refer to her mentality, for we'd have you know that she was in the Scholarship Club. It refers to that region above her shoulders whose duty seems to be to radiate happiness. For Babe, like something else we've heard of, grew mellow in Virginia sunshine and takes her smile wherever she goes.

Spanish Club, 2, 3; Glee Club, 2, 3; Scholarship Club, 1; Arts and Crafts Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Sec.-Treas. of Arts and Crafts Club; Constitution Committee of Arts and Crafts Club.

HAROLD BIRNIE

Amherst

Once upon a time there was a boy who did a considerable amount of globe trotting, picked up some French and many other things (don't take that the way we don't mean it), and then came back to graduate from N. R. High. That's loyalty to New Ro, all right. Harold thinks he will go to Amherst. Well, Amherst has turned out one president, and in all earnestness, we wouldn't be at all surprised if it turned out another. Don't forget that, Harold!

Track Club; Tennis Team.

MORRIS BLEIWEIS

Fordham

Morris Bleiweis (pronounced Blue-Eyes) has run around on the gym floor playing basketball for the last four years. We don't know much about this pharmacy business in which Morris intends to enter, but if you have to use your feet much, there will be no doubt as to his future. As somebody would say, "He's taking a prominent part in the monstrous play 'Life,' and is still running strong."

Interclass Basketball, 1, 2; Varsity Squad, 3, 4; House, 1; French Club, 4.

SARAH BLOCK

Syracuse

Sarah has just the kind of cheerful, even disposition that will make her like the dream-teacher in your own special Utopia. Because of her pleasant temper she'll find her work easy. She's a thoughtful girl, and when she's not doing a good turn for somebody, she plays the piano or indulges in her favorite hobby of reading.

Scholarship Club, 4; French Club, 4; House, 1.

KATHARYN BLOOD

Kay is one of our all round good sports. Everyone knows of her good work in both volley and basketball. Fortunately she has chosen Physical Education for her life work. Quite right, Kay, you are admirably suited to it.

Volleyball, 2, 3, 4; Basketball, 3; Traffic Squad, 3, 4; Spanish Club, 3; Junior Red Cross, 3, 4.

CECILE MARIE BOCK

Barnard

Some people seem to have been born with an ability to accomplish anything they set out to do. Just such a person is Ceil. "Bright," is what her teachers say of her; "lively," is what those who know her say; "versatile," is what anyone who watches her, remarks, and these three characteristics describe her best. She is a fine student and a leading spirit in all her activities. Fine work, Ceil.

Class Basketball, 3, 4, 5; Champion Volleyball Team, 4; House, 1; Senate, 2, 3; French Club, 2, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 2, 3, 4; Scholarship Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Traffic Squad.

MARY FRANCES BRODER

Columbia

May keeps up New Rochelle's reputation along the "brainy" line. Tennis, golf, and writing short stories are her hobbies, and she is also a pianiste. She's going to Columbia to learn to be an English teacher. We just hope you can teach English as thoroughly and easily as you yourself learned it, May.

Senior Volleyball Team, 4; Spanish Club, 3, 4; French Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Scholarship Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

GEORGE DELONG CHAMPLIN

Rensselaer Polytechnic

In spite of the fact that he comes from Tuckahoe, George DeLong Pants has made excellent progress. At the top of the list comes the Scholarship Club, four years. Then, he is a violinist, debater, and radio fan. Lastly, he excels at "ye ancienne game of draughts." He's planning to—pardon us, we mean he's GOING to be a civil engineer. He has it all decided beforehand in his usual methodic manner.

Scholarship Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; French Club, 2, 3; Chess Club, 3, 4; Senate, 3, 4.

EDITH CICCIONE

We think N. R. H. S. has a monopoly on pretty girls. Take for instance, "Edie." Was there ever anything cuter? She thinks she may be a translator in some Spanish concern, and has made a fine record in Spanish at school. Did you ever see a sweeter Senorita?

Scholarship Club, 1; Glee Club, 1; Spanish Club, 2, 3, 4.

CANIO JOSEPH CIOFFARI

Fordham University

Another one of those inevitable Cioffari's! How do they do it? This one is preparing for Fordham. His hobbies are reading and golf, he says. So he has time for golf, with those marks? We give it up. Undoubtedly he makes the rounds of golf below par, but he certainly is way above par on the Regents.

Scholarship Club, 3, 4; French Club, 2, 3, 4.

VIRGINIA BELLE COCHRANE

Normal School

Ginger is one of our most cheerful girls. She has smiled her way thru the Regents successfully for four years and has remained in the Scholarship Club all that time, we want you to note. Perhaps this smiling business should be looked into, for see how many friends she has made, too. Ginger's going to be a teacher, and one that you don't meet often, if she keeps up that pleasant smile.

Vice-President of French Club, 4; French Club, 4; Scholarship Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Traffic Squad.

COLUMBIA CODELLA

Tootsie is going into business. Not such a bad choice. We can imagine her as an efficient little business woman, making up for her lack of height by her energy. And then we can see her snatching a day or two off now and then, to play a little tennis, or to drive out to the ol' swimmin' hole, for Tootsie is very fond of swimming. She'll be able to keep her accounts straight, for bookkeeping was her best subject.

MYRA COFFIN

Smith College

We believe we should state first that Myra is a beautiful pianiste. (You may interpret that sentence in two ways, both of which are correct.) She belonged to a number of organizations, all of which benefited by her membership. Myra dances and draws, and is a very lovely girl on the whole.

Tennis Team, 2; Freshman Volleyball, 1; Dramatic Club, 3, 4; French Club, 3; Orchestra, 1, 2, 3, 4; Court of Honor, 4; Major's Club, 4; Traffic Squad Lieutenant, 3, 4; Senior Council, 4; Ring and Pin Committee, 4; Constitution Committee of G. O.; Non-Athletic Award Committee.

DOROTHY COHEN

Froebel League

This is one of the Siamese twins. Her interests are varied between athletics and dramatics, and she's going to be a kindergarten teacher. We wonder for how long?

French Club, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 3; House, 1; Library Club, 4; Class Basketball, 1, 2, 3; Track Team, 1, 2.

LEON COHEN

University of Pennsylvania

Leon has scored a success as one of Mr. O'Brien's assistants. He seems to be a privileged person because he is not compelled to daintily scamper about in a pair of sneakers and without his shirt. Nevertheless, he is guilty of the crime of submitting some of those jokes in the P. & W. with which we have been afflicted. So the score is even. This Leon is most peculiar, having no accomplishments and no hobbies. We suppose he spends his spare time either sucking his thumbs or counting his hair.

House, 1; Dramatic Club, 3, 4; Senate, 4; French Club, 4; Library Club, 4; Radio Club, 2; Scholarship Club, 4.

THOMAS COLANTINO

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute

Col is a quiet chap, but once you see his kindly brown eyes, ever friendly, you seem impelled by a desire to make his acquaintance. Thus, altho reserved, Col is very well liked by faculty and students alike. He is a perfect whiz at technical work, and it is small wonder that his ambitions for the future are along this path.

DOROTHY J. COSTELLO

Froebel League

This girl has had the pleasure of spending only two years in our school. She admits, however, that N. R. H. S. greatly excels the private school she attended. We hope she has enjoyed her stay here and we also hope that she has felt at home. We sincerely pray that Dorothy is not lazy, but she has decided to become a teacher, and you know a teacher works only 186 days a year at the most.

Glee Club, 3, 4; Dramatic Club, 4; French Club, 4.

CARROL PHOEBE CROUSE

Michigan University

Our only Girl from the Golden West—a case of where we were able “to get Los Angeles” without difficulty. Her vivacity and animation in climbing the stairs as a messenger is quite remarkable. We hope she climbs the ladder of fame in the same manner. Only, Carrol, don't get dizzy after you've reached the top.

Volleyball, 1; Dramatic Club, 4; Chess Club, 4.

REINHARD EDWARD CUSHMAN

Here we have a violinist, and a very good one, too. We have some doubts as to whether he will choose music as his career, for today we saw him emerging from the studio of a tonsorial artist, and less than two weeks ago he visited the same place. It may be possible to have an artistic temperament and short hair at the same time. At any rate, we hope Reine keeps on with his music.

Asst. Mgr. of Track, 3; Orchestra, 4; Bankers' Association, 4.

KATHERINE ESTHER DANIELLS

Smith College

Kay is dramatically inclined, and can render expert criticisms on the leading dramatists of the day. She dances and plays the piano. The theatre holds great attractions for her, but then, Kay is extremely attractive herself, isn't she?

Dramatic Club, 3, 4.

ELLA BELLE DAVIS

Howard University

Belle is the kind of a girl who will be pleasant even if life does not go along like a song; but Bella herself goes along with a song, and we are always ready and willing to hear her sing. Her pleasant voice is a happy addition to the Glee Club. Bella is going to be a teacher, and we hope she continues her music.

Glee Club, 2, 3, 4.

RUTH DAVIS

"Words fail us" when we attempt to describe Davey. Anyway, what's the use, when you all know her so well? What can we add to her athletic record, or anything about her, for that matter? Again, words fail us.

LUCY MARIE DOMENECH

Barnard

Here is a lady very much interested in Spanish things. Now, we know that in Spain there are toreadors, troubadors, stevedores and onions, but what CAN be there to interest Lucy? Oh, we know—Spanish shawls. Now, to be serious. It is very easy to like Lucy; in fact you begin by liking her as soon as you meet her and keep right on ever after—a case where first impressions are perfectly correct.

JEANORA DON

Jean would make a decidedly pretty ornament any place, but don't be deceived—she's a worker and a good one. She plays the piano, mandolin, and also bridge—quite an accomplished young lady! She's planning to be a kindergarten teacher.

VINCENT DE PAUL DRADDY

Holy Cross

Introducing Vin the Invincible. But you know him already, don't you? Remember the time the score was Draddy 7, Mt. Vernon 0? He is going to be a cotton broker and incidentally, Vin, we expect you to slam into the cotton world just as you did into the opposing line. But first we want you to show them how to play football at Holy Cross.

DOROTHY EATON

Institute of Musical Art

Altho Dot hasn't been with us very long she has made a distinct impression and has out-distanced most of us in scholarship and executive ability. Perhaps this is partly due to the Junior High School she attended. Dot's made many friends, too, for one glance at those friendly eyes and pleasant smile is enough to make anyone want to be her friend.

Yes, sir, you're right. They aren't all like Peggy. Wouldn't it be a wonderful world if everybody was like her? And she's courageous. She looks us straight in the eye and says she has no accomplishments. WE think it's no mean achievement to have everyone who ever met her say, "I like that girl." What do YOU say?

ELEANOR ROSEMARY FANELLI

Barnard

Eleanor is a mighty interesting person to know. She belongs to almost every organization in the school, and still has managed to stay in the Scholarship Club for four years. There's a record for you. She says she intends to be either a Spanish or an elocution teacher. Just keep on the way you're going, Eleanor, and no one will have to worry about you.

Another one of the genus radiolus fanus, found mostly at home. Even as the ostrich buries its head in sand, so does this bury its head in among the tubes, becoming ferocious when disturbed at its task, but at other times gentle, full of good humor and ready with a good joke in case you're feeling blue—our own Joseph Fanelli. Joe plays the piano, and is planning to be an automotive engineer.

WILLIAM NELSON FENTON

Bill's a star at geometry, at the violin, at managing for football teams, and the like. We hope the next manager is as good. We couldn't say "better"—you can't beat the best. Bill has chosen music and reading as his hobbies. He expresses a fear that he may be forced to attend Sing Sing College, but we are of the opinion that he is only joking. We're quite sure that earnest, conscientious boys like Bill are never sent there.

ETHEL ELIZABETH FERRY

Betty is a chess fiend and has become quite expert in moving the little pieces of wood. We ourselves exult in the game of kings (and queens), and therefore can appreciate Betty's mania. Another of her accomplishments is that of driving a "Chevy" or, as it is more commonly called, a "Shove Along." We aren't sure whether she drives or pushes her prairie schooner, but we are certain that Betty has, does, and will derive a great amount of pleasure in saying that she has a grown-up baby carriage.

Mary's hobby is the movies. Shake hands, Mary, we like movies, too. As we sit here and write our mind has flown far away at the mention of movies. "Now we are in Bagdad with Douglas Fairbanks, now in England with Mary Pickford." Anyway, our job at the present is to write, not effuse. Mary has a great deal of patience and courage for her task in 1936 will be that of teaching kindergarten children their A B C's.

RUTH FRENCH

Northland College

Here we have a very useful young person, and a credit to her class. Many of the organizations have found a helpful member in Ruth, and she is a star where Algebra is concerned. Of course, she didn't tell us this. We had to find it out. We had another pleasant thing to say about her, but you can find it out yourself by glancing at her picture. After that, "glance" will not be the word.

SAMUEL GLASSER

Fordham—College of Pharmacy

They must have missed Sam a lot over at Morris High, and while N. R. sympathized with them, it welcomed Sam with open arms. No wonder—he obtained honors at Morris and walked off with several here. He is working to put an M.D. and Ph.G. after his name, and nobody worries about whether he'll do it or not, with a few other degrees to boot. That's the worst of being brilliant, especially when you shine as much as Sam does.

LOUIS JOSEPH GLICK

New York University,

"Lou" is athletically, musically, studiously, and dramatically inclined. And by "inclined" we don't mean that he tilts his head back and struts around as if he were balancing a penny on his nose, for with all his accomplishments he has a sunny disposition and is friendly to everyone.

GERTRUDE CAROLINE GLOGAU

Barnard

Gertrude represents the literary group in this class; she writes poetry, and like all artists, has a lot of hair. Like all artists she also has her peculiar hobbies—old prints, etchings, discussions, swimming and horseback riding. Quite peculiar, yes? "Gert" is a flowery talker and very dramatic. Can she read Latin with wonderful translations and gorgeous words? She'd dumbfound Virgil himself. Nevertheless, "With all thy foibles, we love thee still."

Here is a girl who is careful and thorough in her work, so we can foretell without any fear of exaggeration that she will be a secretary worth having when she enters the business world, just as she was a girl worth having at N. HERBERT A. GREEN

Cornell

Besides being athletic, Herb seems to be quite a musician. His chief hobby is remembering jokes and cracking them on his friends, he says. But we don't believe that he spends much time doing that—not after seeing his Algebra marks, we don't. Advertising will be his future occupation. Just at present he spends some time playing the banjo-mandolin.

It must have been that year in Lausanne, Switzerland, that made Alice such a lovely girl. We are not surprised that her favorite subject is French, and that she is very Frenchy herself. We are glad that she did not bring back the shoulder-shrugging habit, altho she has a way of making her eyes twinkle that is quite as effective.

Herb is a base-foot-basketball fan, and also takes part in track events. He insists that he fusses around with fuses, coils, assaults and batteries, and other radio implements, but he is always so cheerful we can hardly believe that, and speaking of wave lengths, how's that for a wave in his hair? Well, anybody with that hair has a right to be laughing all the time.

JOHN GEORGE HAAS, JR.

Yale University

Twenty-seven activities! Of course, there were more, but that's all he could recall at the time. John is a busy man. Most of us were wondering how he could juggle so many positions, and then on top of it all he won a scholarship to Yale. While rejoicing with him, at the same time we regard him with veneration, and something akin to worship. Good boy, John! We look to hear from you later.

Lee's specialty seems to be examinations, nevertheless, we should like to be in her class when she becomes a teacher. He sure cuts some figure around this burg, too, with his pipe and his guitar. I say, there, cawn't he draw, eh? He shakes a mean brush, all rightie, and of course he's going to study art. KATHRYN COLLINS HASTIE

A sister of the famous Maurice, therefore somewhat neglected. However, we wouldn't let that annoy us, for there are many renowned women who have had famous relations; for instance, Amy Lowell, Lucrezia Borgia, and Mary Pickford. Kathryn came from Minneapolis, the home of the flour mills. Therefore we suppose she's got the dough.

MAURICE W. HASTIE

The Principia

Maurice is a hustler. Always hastening somewhere. However, he had better take care about hastening to eat hot soup or he may burn his tongue. Maurice is also a capable electrician as those who witnessed the Senior Play can testify. He is going into the advertising business and is starting right from the beginning. He is going to "The Principia." Spanish students will understand that one.

HELYN E. HATFIELD

Dowell's School of Designing

We firmly believe that "Red" is a lover of art and drama. Here are some of the facts upon which we base our belief: 1. She intends to go to McDowell's School of Designing. 2. Her future occupation is to be a costume designer. 3. While she attended high school she scored numerous successes in her English classes, in her reading of poems. 4. She enjoys dancing and skating, which, when well done, are arts in themselves. 5. Helen has a very artistic handwriting. If Helen ever needs a reference letter, we will always be greatly pleased to set forth her accomplishments.

DANIEL C. HAYDEN

"Farmer" is noisy and good company. We haven't been able to ascertain much about him but he's all right, just the same. He believes in the saying, "The early bird catches the worm," for he's always in reg. room bright and early. We wonder why. Could it be to do his homework neglected the night before? Impossible! Impossible, because he doesn't neglect to do his work.

WILLIAM HAYS

This Hays person has some unique ideas. His latest: choice of life work to be a retired banker. Now, Bill, we have a sneaking idea that if you keep on doing things up brown, as you have so far, it's not going to be such a very long time before you are a retired banker, or anything else you want to be. THOMAS A. HCTOR

Fordham

Tom intends to enter the profession of journalism. Any time the Giants need more fielders, Tom will jump right up and place a stirring, heart-gripping appeal in the "New York Evening Blah-Blah." Then watch the results. There'll be such a jam at the Polo Grounds, McGraw will perish with joy. Tom ought to sell peanuts and shoe-laces on Broadway. He deserves a better fate than becoming editor of the "Blah-Blah" at $50,000 per. A man of his ability could easily sell each pedestrian on Broadway a pair of water-wings and a package of rubber tacks.

You can see for yourself what a position this Howard personage held in N. R. H. S. Of course there are some people who don't like him, but that's because they aren't acquainted with him, and anyway, they live in China, we think. He has travelled, too, and can sing and act and—but we'd better stop.

HENRY HOWARD

Henry's not so bad to look at, or to think about. What say you? He has one quality that we admire in particular—his stage presence. Of course, his presence is greatly to be desired at any and all times, but we refer to his absolute composure before large groups of people. Leading a meeting in crowded room, he acts as naturally as if he were answering a history question. He plays a trombone the way it was meant to be played, and he sure can make a piano talk. Whiteman, beware!

So Peggy's going to be a teacher? Well, we can see where some little children are not going to mind attending school at all. We also see them bringing her flowers because they like her, and not to appease her anger, as we remember doing once upon a time. Moreover, we don't believe Peggy has the slightest bit of anger in her—she's all sunshine and good humor.

Eli has been so backward in coming forward that we'll have to tell you what we found out—he puts over anything he tackles. That may be slang, but it expresses what we mean. Girls, what wouldn't you give for that hair? Maybe it grew that way in Constantinople. That's the first place we'll visit when we're rich.

DOROTHY JOSEPHINE KIRCHHOFF

Dot believes in sporting a smile every day, and not just bringing it out for special occasions. If all your beliefs are as happy as this one, Dot, there are lots of people who will profit just from meeting you once. Dot is one of our class artists, and we hope she keeps up the good work.

Why should anyone nickname such a nice, decidedly feminine person, as Ethel Kirsner, "Mac"? However, she alone knows the reason, so we're afraid we can't volunteer an explanation. About Ethel herself; she says she hopes to be a dancer, in which ambition we wish her success, of course, and hope she'll rival, nay, surpass Pavlowa, some day.

REBECCA SARAH KLIBANOW

Oh, well, he's a quiet duck sometimes, and you can't get so much as a quack out of him if he doesn't want to talk. In spite of this he's a very talented young man, or maybe it's because of this, we aren't sure.

MARION ELIZABETH KUEPPER

Virgil Conservatory

Another one of our musical prodigies. Kep is a wonder at the piano. She plays jazz till it creeps along the floor and gets under your feet, and she could put you to sleep with a dreamy Nocturne the next minute. She excelled (of course) in music theory, and went out for sports as well. SARAH M. LAURICELLA

Sarah has talent as a pianist and we agree with her upon her decision to become a concert player. As a French student, she is commendable and has maintained a sufficiently high average to be a member of the French Club for three years. Since she will most likely spend some time in Europe developing her talent, we know, that with her knowledge of French her task will be much easier.

French Club, 2, 3, 4; Scholarship Club, 1, 2.

MINNIE LEAF

Minnie's favorite indoor sport is volleyball. Her favorite subject is gym and we understand that she skates. As she hopes to travel, she will probably see and learn a great many new games, such as the European game of "Gimme, Gimme," played at Monte Carlo and elsewhere, or the new game of volplaning thru the air from some moving object, as a horse, introduced to England by He Rides Horses, the Prince of Wales. Minnie is a nice girl to know, and a nice girl even when you don't know her, for the truth is, she's kind and friendly to everybody.

ALLAN LEVINE

Syracuse

Allan is very precise and explicit, two essential qualities for a lawyer, we hear. Really it must be pleasing at times to be a lawyer. Think of being able to point your finger at a witness, frown murderously and thunder, "Is that the truth?" Even after being cowed sufficiently by the Regents, Allan will still have a lot of push left, and we know he'll make an able legal advisor when he hangs his shingle out.

MARION ISABEL LEVINE

Vassar

Marion is another one of us who intends to join the ranks of artists, but we know she isn't going to be one of the starving kind. She's been too successful in her school work to fail in anything she may undertake later, as her record of four years in the Scholarship Club and many other organizations clearly shows.

KATHRYN VERONICA LEYDEN

Business Institute

Piquant, vivacious, petite is Queenie. But don't let this frivolity mislead you. She has some very sensible ideas and expects to attend a business institute after graduating. So you see how deceiving appearances may be. She informs us she "attempts" to play a mandolin. We'd believe this if we didn't know she was restrained by a due sense of propriety.

Track Team, 1, 2; Organization Editor of Year Book; Dramatic Club, 3; House, 1.

ESTHER HELEN LINDSTROM

Here is a girl who has successfully combined scholastic and athletic activities. Esther has capably managed the girl's track team. Also, as side center on the Seniors' basketball team, she has contributed toward its victories. In addition, she has been a member of the Scholarship Club and Spanish Club and has contributed to the P. & W. Therefore, as a secretary, she will be able to sprint to the train and then to the office—toss her hat and coat onto hooks; hurdle her desk, and seat herself at her work as the boss walks in the door.

EDITH R. LIPSIO

Edie, our class baby, is going to put aside all frivolous thoughts after she graduates and will enter the big, stern, business world. She intends to be a secretary, and will perch on the edge of the ink bottle to take letters, so the boss can see her. We hope she doesn't fall in: a milk bath is much more beneficial.

Class Baby, 1, 2, 3, 4.

FLORENCE HELEN LOBDELL

Swarthmore College

Helen doesn't tell us what her life work is to be; but no one is worrying very much since there are so many things she could do. She is a good student and interested in art, also a very fine friend and a lovely girl.

ADOLF LOF

Columbia

Do you see this guy's smile? Laughing Lof is another of our famous athletes. He shines in track, cross-country, and basketball. He also helped his class team along in baseball and football. "Laughing" is pretty good at science and intends to be an electro-chemical engineer. With that smile of his, he'll work wonders.

ELISABETH JUANITA LOPEZ

Columbia

Our diminutive genius—made it in three years, and was in the Scholarship Club every year! And now the child informs us she is intending to take up the solemn career of medicine. And this after having had jokes published in the Purple and White. Of course, she will find time for horseback riding, basketball, and playing the piano. Seniors, look to yourselves!

Senate, 3; Scholarship Club, 2, 3, 4; French Club, 3.

FREDERICK A. LOWENHEIM

Columbia

We've all heard that story about somebody's making a stone weep, but Fred has made the grouchiest person we ever knew laugh uproariously for several minutes, and this is the greater miracle. "How one small head could carry all he knew," was the great mystery at N. R. H. S., and will continue to be wherever he goes, we feel sure. A little chap, but as Arisplato, or somebody, said, a dynamo of action. Fred hopes to be a chemical engineer and we are sure he will win. He can't lose; he's witty.

ELMER R. LUBY

Elmer is our star high jumper and from advance reports he will be even better this year. As a mechanical engineer, his future is predetermined for his favorite subject is mechanical drawing and the subject in which he excelled, algebra.

Track Team, 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club, 1, 2, 3.

MARY KATHARINE MAHER

Teachers' Training School, N. Y. C.

Won't "sis" make a good kindergarten teacher? We're sure the children will all love her, even as those who know her now do. She's quite a studious person, too, despite the fact that the conventional scholar's frown is nowhere to be found in her vicinity. No wonder, her smile is too much for any frown. French Club, 2, 3; Scholarship Club, 1, 4; House, 1; Dramatic Club, 3.

EMMY LOU MALLY

Barnard

Emmy is one of the outstanding girls of our class in literary talent. Poetry, stories and articles of every description have been published by the Purple and White bearing Emmy's name and also some bearing the name of —well, the literary world will have her later on, and from all appearances she will be a success.

Purple and White Staff, 4; Senate, 3; Dramatic Club, 3, 4; Second Prize, Junior Prince Prize Speaking Contest, 3.

ELIZABETH ANNA McEVOY

New York University

Betty is another of our all around good sports. It is rare that one finds so many good qualities equally represented in one person. She is an excellent athlete, an efficient student, and a true friend. Those who may count Betty among their friends are indeed lucky. Yes, she's chosen Physical Training as her life work.

IRVING A. MENDELSON

Fordham

Irving is a VIOLINIST, likes MUSIC and his surname is MENDELSON! And moreover, he had the honor of leading the orchestra on Students' Day. With this as a beginning, we believe Max would make another music master. However, he wants to become a lawyer, and since we have nothing to do with his choice of a future occupation, we will calmly sit back and allow him. You know that old one about "Every dog to his bone," only, don't skin your clients, Max.

PAUL MEYER

Cornell

"Bud" did good work as property manager and electrician of several of the plays put on during his two years here. He can do his job O. K. on the stage as well as behind the scenes, and appeared in two plays given by the Dramatic Club. He can monkey around with wires and strings of all kinds, for besides being a scenic lighting expert, he's not so bad when it comes to playing a violin.

DORA MEYERSON

New York University

Among the famous personages who "made their mark" in the world, we can truthfully include Dora. Yes, she writes shorthand. She has for her goal the position of teacher and her hobbies are writing stories and making up jokes. A teacher who can keep her class in good humor by telling jokes can very easily outstrip a serious teacher in piling on the homework. Just send them home with a smile and they won't realize what they are doing.

STANLEY MILLER

Annapolis

Stanley is a prize package. We could wrap him up securely and address him as follows: from N. R. H. to U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md. With Care. THIS SIDE UP. Only Stan has so very many brains, they might have a hard time keeping him upright. We don't infer that he's not an upright fellow, by any means. On second thoughts too, because we believe that Stan can and will stand a lot of knocking around and all sorts of adverse circumstances when he gets out in the world.

JAMES MOFFETT

Greatly shining, Jimmie Moffett floats in the thin sky; and the boys shout, and the girls cheer—A star, a hero, to be admired by all. (Not signed) Amy Lowell. Translation: Jimmie is a good friend.

EMMA MURPHY

With her knowledge of bookkeeping and music, Emma will make a good private secretary. Whenever the boss becomes irritated, Emma will promptly soothe his spirits with a tune from her typewriter. If that fails in extreme cases, she will dance the latest steps before his eyes. And if that, too, fails, why, Emma, simply put on your hat and coat and go home.

ERNEST NACHER

Columbia

The Sheik himself. He has a deep, manly voice, as you can see from the fact that he was cheerleader and auctioneer. He draws, plays the banjo and uke, and is planning to make architecture his life work. Go to it, sheik, design a REAL building for the world (but not a school).

Sophomore Basketball, 2; Cheerleader, 3, 4; Cross-country, 1; Spanish Club, 3; Auctioneer for Lost & Found Dept.

MARGARETTA NELSON

"Pearl" is a very suitable nickname for Margaretta. She is a pearl; quiet, efficient, a trustworthy friend, and we predict that some day she'll be somebody's "pearl of a secretary." She plays the piano and dances, and reading is one of her hobbies—a very good one, too, Pearl.

Spanish Club, 3, 4.

ALBINA ANNA NEUMANN

"Albina is such an unobtrusive little mouse," thinks everybody, "and so studious." Yes, she is studious, but she finds time to practise the piano, do all sorts of fancy work, and write charming poetry. And thru it all she keeps smiling, and made us all glad to have known her, just as she will continue to make people glad for the same reason.

Scholarship Club, 1, 2, 3, 4; Spanish Club, 4.

KATHERINE BERNADETTA O'BRIEN

Barnard

Most of us make it in four, some of us make it in five, but Tiny has made it in three years. We refrain from any ill-deserved praise, and merely state that in this year's List of Great Persons the name of Katherine Bernadetta O'Brien belongs very near the top. She is a wonder, and N. R. congratulates her on that as well as for being a delightful little person besides.

ALBERTINE PAUL

New York Art School

So Albertine's going to art school. Can't you imagine our dainty, little Albertine running around in a smock and a tam, all covered with paint? (Don't mistake us, we mean the paint to be on the smock.) If she makes as good an artist as she would a model—Sargent, Beware!

Dramatic Club, 3; Business Writing Club.

GEORGE PAVESE

In ten years this husky lad will be plucking the strings of a violin between his brawny fingers. George, we'd rather see you playing a delicate violin with those muscular hands than splitting rocks with them with a cannon ball fastened to your leg.

Football, 4; Orchestra.

MARJORIE F. PEYSER

Goucher College

When you think of Marge, you think of math, and we aren't at all surprised that she's going to teach it when she leaves college. We only hope she makes it as clear to her pupils as it was to her. A lady of varying moods: when she felt athletic, she played tennis or basketball; when she felt ambitious, she joined the Scholarship Club; when she felt lazy, she finished her math in five minutes and got an A.

MYRTLE L. PICKER

Wellesley

Because Myrtle is "optima" in history and intends to eventually become a doctor, she has an advantage over other M.D.'s. E.g., "Where was King Harold hit by the Norman arrow?" Being "buemsima" in history, she would immediately diagnose, "He was hit in the Battle of Hastings."

SOLOMON POLIAK

Fordam—New York Dental

Sol's going to be a dentist and if he pulls teeth as he plays the sax he'll be a whiz. He always was thorough, and got right down to the root of things. Hope he doesn't use football tactics in his dentistry game.

Sophomore Football, 2; Scholarship Club, 2, 3; Senior Orchestra, 3, 4.

SUZANNE ZENA POLIAK

New York University

Suzanne is rather small, but compensates for her diminutive stature with her vivacity. In spite of her smallness, she manages to battle thru the snow drifts and reach the school safely. There's hunger for knowledge (or maybe fun). With that French name she easily gained admittance to the French Club. Couple this with her ability to Charleston and her gaiety and you will not be surprised to find that she does not lack friends.

RUTH PORTER

National Park Seminary

During her sojourn at N. R. Ruth has been a very busy lady. Of course she admits that she possesses no accomplishments, but we have a word to say about that. We know she can do pretty nearly anything she sets out to do. She has been very successful during her career here, and we know she's going to keep on being successful when she opens her tea room. Can't you imagine what a pleasant place it will be, with Ruth for its owner?

SAMUEL B. PRAY

Sam's quite the sheik, and he's good company, too. He belongs to the ambition-graduate club, but his lessons don't bother him very much—he never thinks about them. He swings a wicked bat in baseball, and, if we judge by appearances, he must swing a wicked knee, too.

HILDEGARDE VIOLA PRICE

Hilly is a gay little person, filled with the joy of living, and consequently wants to impart it to everyone else. She goes around singing and humming and swapping jokes with everybody. You'd think she might get tired rushing around, but she doesn't appear to and we hope she never does, because everyone likes to see Hilly's bright eyes and sunny smile.

JAMES D. PRICE

Cornell

Jimmie is one of New Rochelle's song birds—not a swallow, tho, nor a blue bird, but a very joyous nightingale. He has often entertained us, in a way we like to be entertained. He belonged to the orchestra and chorus, too. He's going to Cornell, but we hope he keeps up his music, so he can give pleasure to others as he did to us at N. R.

LELAND QUINDRY

This lad is as light-headed as they make 'em. Just the outside, because inside there is a clear-thinking, common sense brain, and when Leland starts to use it, people like you and me haven't got a chance. He plays an excellent game of tennis; that is, he beat us once. He's small, but, oh, my! Somebody said, "The smallest leaf may hide the largest star."

SAMUEL QUINN, 3RD

Columbia

Sam is a nice boy and comes from Buffalo. He is planning to get his experience for a business career by working on the New York Stock Exchange, he says. If you get in water over your head, Sam, any New Rochellean will throw you a line. (A life line we mean, not a line of bull.)

MARIAN RABEN

Barnard

Stand by, my friends, and you shall have in a second, Miss Marian Raben, on the subject of Latin, Aeneid, Book I. Scarcely a man can be called "in the run" in translating this stuff like she kin. Station WWW, Mouglass Pickbanks announcing. We aren't a bit surprised to learn that "Sis," who is a very lovely girl, is to be a Latin and history teacher, for we can't think of anybody more suited to the work.

CHARLES RABINOWITZ

He is a chemistry expert, very adept at dropping apparatus; however, he drives a Henry Flivver well, so that makes up for it. So long as he doesn't drop dishes, that he's drying, it won't matter anyway.

ARTHUR RAFFER

Boston University

Arthur came all the way from Cambridge, Mass., to enjoy the delights and benefits of New Rochelle High School. He's our one and only student commuter, coming from Jamaica, or some other foreign country, every morning. Gosh, Art, you're ambitious. He tells us his hobbies are radio and whist. What's whist? Now ya got us all excited; so we gotta stop and consult Noah.

Scholarship Club, 3, 4.

JOHN RANGES

His father owns the Boston Spa, so he's quite a nice fellow to know; but even if he didn't have "influential connections" he'd still be a nice fellow to know. We wonder if he's a candy kid. He ought to have plenty of girl friends, with or without the candy store.

HELEN MAE RENNICKS

New York University

Here's a busy little lady, yet never too busy to have a friendly smile for everyone. She dances, and plays bridge and a uke, also basketball. So you see, she makes you hustle to keep pace with her. Not that she's a fast girl, oh! my, no. She's thoughtful, clear-headed and bright. The last three adjectives having referred to her head, we will add one more—pretty, (which nobody can deny).

W. ARNOLD REYNOLDS, JR.

Who would ever suppose that beneath this serious exterior there exists a humorous vein? Yet one must not believe that he spends all his time in nonsense producing. His ambition is to become wealthy. If, in about ten years you return from Central Afghanistan and hear of the millionaire manufacturer of flat tires, we give you one guess as to who it will be. Arnold believes in doing everything up in good shape, and we offer as proof his four year record in the Scholarship Club.

ELISE RICHARDSON

Teachers' Training

Elise is very neat and methodical and above all has a very pleasing personality; all of which we are sure will carry her a long way in realizing her ambition to teach. She is also accomplished in designing, singing and piano. With all these attainments, success ought to be easy for her.

French Club, 1, 2.

ALF ROLFSEN

Alf enjoys duck hunting, and from the papers we see that he is very proficient in his hobby. Alf also has a nice Reo (Ruin Every Owner) cutaway. It cuts away part of your leg every time you crank it. He has been quite active in athletic and social circles, a good student, and the kind of classmate we like.

HILDUR ROLFSEN

New York School of Music

Our class has a great many candidates for Bloomingdale. No, my children, it isn't a college; it's an insane asylum. Hildur is one of our foremost candidates. She's a cross-word lunatic. If she isn't puzzling over the daily brain-teaser, she is pondering the latest dress design from Paris. For you see, "Hil" loves sewing. Just because she is so crazy over cross-words, is not a sign that she will eject a string of cross words at her pupils when she becomes a piano teacher.

LOUIS PAUL ROSE

Louis is one of the Rose twins. He looks so much like "Rich" you don't know who you're talking to. He (Louis) has been active in sports; cross country, track, baseball and basketball. His choice for a life work is a C. P. A. Anybody know what a C. P. A. is? No? Well, we have one on you then, for we found after a diligent search that it stands for "Certified Public Accountant."

GHIZELLA ROSENFELD

New York University

Here is one of the brilliant scholars of the class, yet so quiet and unassuming is she, that one would think she boasted of no accomplishment whatsoever. She plays a bang-up game of volleyball, proving her excellence in athletics as well as scholarship. Giz is persevering and a credit to any activity she takes part in. One of her teachers has said of her, "Ghizella Rosenfeld will go far."

IRENE ROSENGARTEN

New York University

Irene is one of the "Five." That's all we know of this mysterious quintet. "Nudie" is very good at bookkeeping and we know why. Her father is the famous wholesale vegetable man and she had had real training in his office. Now we mustn't tell any more family secrets. Irene is always in high spirits and evidently is having a good time. It would be some school if no one had a single care or worry to mar his happiness.

ELIZABETH ALLEN ROTHENBERG

For some mysterious reason, Betty left our class completely and disappeared. Then she suddenly returned and we were glad. For before her departure she had taken an active part in the various clubs and other functions of this school. We are pleased to note that once more she is with us to make one more pretty decoration in our group.

Colgate

This young man needs some sound sleep. He goes to roost about half past two in the morning and tries to get up at seven. Still he's been in the Scholarship Club for four years. Henry, how do you do it? We believe that as a lawyer, you will be a success, since you have a long line of brother lawyers before you, and not many of them could be much more earnest than you.

Wellesley

Think of a clever journalist, a first class athlete, an excellent student, a thrilling orator, a budding poet, an actor of ability, and a very nice girl, and Presto! you have "Bee." She admits that her accomplishments are "nothing in particular," but Bee Saqui, if you don't cause a grand stir in the world, say, an earthquake, there's a lot of us that will be mighty disappointed.

MARY WILHELMINA SCHWAB

So our fawn-like Mary is going to enter the grim, vast world of business. Well, she'll make good there, we feel sure, just as she did at N. R. H. S. She skates, dances, hikes and plays the piano; quite a formidable array of accomplishments, isn't it? You say you think she must be a pleasant person to know? Right you are!

FREDERICK HOWARD SEACORD, JR.

Williams

When Fritz comes to our house, we call him "Freddy." However, after gazing at his pedigree we feel impelled to say that Fritz (or Freddy, as you will) is a linguist, a scholar, a diplomat, a cop, a litterateur, and to those who were hitherto unsuspecting, we now divulge a musician, for you see he plays the victrola! Yes, we were dumbfounded ourselves. Frederick says one of his hobbies is archaeology, but we have suspicions that he's spoofing.

FAITH BONNEY SEARLES

Faith has certainly developed since that memorable day back in 1922 when she first, bashfully, entered this school. Now her main pastime is talking and laughing. She either laughs so much she can't talk or talks so fast she can't laugh. But who wouldn't laugh if they had dimples like hers?

CAROLYN ROSE SHERMAN

Presbyterian Hospital

Carol likes hunting, fishing, canoeing, and horseback riding. We hope she can ride a horse as well as H. R. H. The Prince of Wales. She says she is going to be a nurse. We wouldn't mind being sick, if Carol was to be our nurse. Would you?

Ed is a wholesome combination of the athletic and the studious girl, and oh, yes! of the dancing girl, too. But you could almost call some kinds of dancing athletics, couldn't you? Please note that she has been in the Scholarship Club for four years. Thank you, now add the fact that she Charlestons, and you can see whether she's an ideal girl or not.

MOLLIE GERTRUDE SILVER

Syracuse University

Little Mollie is very quiet, but she's extremely pleasant to look at, with her black, curly hair and lovely eyes. She says stenography is her best subject, so we take it for granted that she intends to make it her future occupation, and we hope we're right, for Mollie would make an efficient secretary.

IRMA ELIZABETH SKIPTON

Isn't it easy for you to imagine Tip as a cool, deft nurse? We are glad she has chosen that as her life work, as we can think of no one for whom the choice would be more suitable. Somehow, she gives one the impression of efficiency, and we feel that Tip will make a tiptop nurse.

DORIS C. SMITH

Sometimes in our work we come upon people about whom it is difficult to say anything. We simply find our mind a void in regard to them. Such a person Doris is not. We could go on talking forever about her good qualities. She is rather cute, as you see. She can dance, swim, play bridge, and above all, she is pleasant and agreeable with everyone, which is a great asset.

HOWARD GODWIN SMITH

Cornell

"Ahoy, check!" cried the knight, as he removed the bishop with a blow from his battle ax. And so that is why the bishop to this day has a nick in his cap—Just then Howard woke up, and remembered that he had to play his game, as usual, and then went home and tinkered with his radio. He says he's a philatelist, which word we have just looked up and discovered that it means a collector of stamps.

FERN SPELMAN

Barnard

Spelly doesn't want to let us know what she can do, and doesn't tell us much about herself, but she isn't fooling us at all. We know she's in the Scholarship Club, and that's a good start for anyone, particularly for a private secretary.

Scholarship Club.

MARGARET SHERMAN STAHL

Wells College

Another one of those people who will say they have no accomplishments. We'll tell you some of Margaret's. She sings, acts, plays baseball, basketball, volleyball, and is a wonder where math is concerned. She's a very likeable young lady, and we wish her all the luck in the world in her future occupation, only it's hardly necessary; she'd win with all the forces in the world against her.

SELMA STAMMEL

Froebel League

Sallie says she likes dancing (we suppose she means the Charleston), reading (we suppose she means Zane Grey) and tennis (we know she means the tennis costume). Well, Sallie, we'll admit there's lots of fun in dancing, reading and tennis, but we know there'll also be fun in teaching little kiddies their A, B, C's.

FREDERICK J. STEINHARDT

Yale

Fred's a scholar, a sailor, and a musician. He was in the Scholarship Club for four years, and never had to worry about what marks he would get. Some of us wonder how he did it, but sh! we'll tell you, it was hard work. Like most geniuses, Fred plays the organ and piano.

EDNA JEAN STEPHENS

Columbia

When a girl can draw and yet wants to be a dental nurse, something is wrong. However, when you are in agony and also a dentist's chair, perhaps Edna will draw some funny pictures for you to draw your thoughts from your pain. Meanwhile, the dentist goes merrily on drilling for your collar button, and Edna's presence of mind and pen saves the day. And thus another victim walks from the dentist's office without having cried or sworn.

METTA LOUISE STOLL

No doubt a great many of our readers have seen this girl's drawings in the P. & W. She has illustrated several poems for us during her stay here. Metta's talents will not be useless, for she will have an opportunity to display them as a drawing teacher, and since she is very interested in art we know she will make a good teacher.

ROCCO JOSEPH SUMMA

Rocco is planning to go into business. He says he likes bookkeeping and business arithmetic was the subject he excelled in. That's good equipment. Now, to dive into the great unknown, Rocco's such an amiable fellow that he'll be able to swim thru (not around) any and all obstacles, particularly frowns and bad tempers.

THYRA SUNDBERG

Thyra is no talker and yet became the Secretary of the Scrappers' Society, or the House. That is indeed paradoxical. Altho Thyra was never given a chance to air her musical voice, because of other louder stentorian noises, still we have discovered since that time, that her voice favorably compares with those of Geraldine Garden and Mary Arrar. Her piano playing can be listened to with ease and her entire personality tends to make us think she'll be a musician.

Secretary of House, 1; Scholarship Club; President of Arts and Crafts Club, 2; Dramatic Club.

RUTH MARY SWEENEY

We always knew the Irish were good singers, and here is proof of it. Ruth, whose nickname, by the way, is "Irish," intends to be a singer. Although she's never given us the pleasure of hearing her, we're sure we will in the not-so-distant future. Perhaps in the Opera. Why not? It's up to you, Ruth.

House, 1.

JAMES E. TROTMAN

Howard University

Jimmy had a wonderful build for center on our basketball team; slim, tall, agile, fast, in fact, he's so quick they call him "Fast Freight." Jimmy often has to rely on his hands. He uses them to play the violin, to play tennis, basketball, and football, to tinker with his radio and when he's debating. Shortly he'll be using them in the medical profession.

Helen has the enviable record of having been in the Scholarship Club for four years. She is one of our best scholars and, incidentally, one of our cutest girls. She intends to be a private secretary. Keep up your present record, Helen.

FRANK JOSEPH VOLPE

Columbia

Frank's going to Columbia and is planning to be a pharmacist. It's an art just to be able to read the writing on prescriptions, not to mention doing them up. Frank's a sincere worker and we know he'll come out on top.

Spanish Club, 3, 4; Scholarship Club, 3.

JULIE TALLMADGE WEBBER

Sweet Briar College

We wonder if there is really any mystery behind "Jule's" boyish haircut, and very masculine fiction. On second thought we hazard that she is simply creating an atmosphere in which to produce her great he-man novel of the future; for you know that she has intentions of becoming an author. "Jule" seems to strongly believe in the old adage, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder." We can safely say that she has been at school at least one month this year.

DAVID WEIHER

This is a lucky boy—Miggles' twin brother. She isn't so badly off, either, is she? They always do things together, they tell us—laugh, eat, quarrel, cheer, flunk, etc. Dave is a jolly companion, always ready to tell you a joke or to laugh at one of yours. That last qualification is particularly attractive.

MARGARET BAKER WEIHER

Sargent's Physical Ed. College

Margaret, or Miggles, if you would be less conventional, has been very active during the past four years and has a long list of achievements to her credit. Besides this she has found swimming a very excellent record altogether. She plans to attend a school at Cambridge. We know something of that town ourselves and predict that she will like it. (N. B.—To the world except Miggles: Cambridge will like her, too.)

AUGUSTA WEINTRAUB

New York University

We see now why "Gus" could afford to carry out the silence policy of Mr. Coolidge. She has just admitted (and we had to force her to do it) that she has been a member of the Scholarship Club for four years. So she silently pored over her volumes while the rest of us were trying to make up for our lack of brains by our volume of sound. We're not worrying much about whether or not "Gus" will graduate from college with honors—and neither is anybody else who knows her.

Scholarship Club, 1, 2, 3, 4.

ALICE WENCK

Again, in Alice, we have the admirable combination of an excellent athlete and a good scholar, only with the addition of dramatic ability this time. She doesn't tell us anything of her future plans, but it's easy to imagine great and pleasant things for Alice.

RUTH WIELANDT

We don't know whether Ruth is Irish or not, but we do know that she has the loveliest blue eyes, of which any fair colleen would be jealous. Ruth has a voice as charming as can be, and a personality even charmer. You never saw her dance? That's your hard luck.

Bells of Beaujolais.

MERLE RAYMOND WILKINS

Bowdoin College

Merlie comes from "way down east," so we don't wonder that he says his hobby is checkers. He must like it down there pretty well, for he's planning to go to Bowdoin. Well, we don't blame him. Merlie is a good scout, and we wish him luck in his profession of teaching.

AIMEE LOUISE WORMS

Wellesley

"Teddy's" work on various committees has been extremely satisfactory, for she delights in being a committee worker. She served the volleyball team well, too. We note that she is much interested in art and drama—two very fine interests to have. Teddy is rather backward and clam-like where chattering is concerned; it follows that she can keep a secret, and from this we deduce that she makes just the kind of friend that everyone needs.

Elias's a dog (no offence), a DX hound. He got Texas on a one-tube set. Now, now Elias, who's your agent, and how much does it cost? "El Zantz" plays a harmonica. Well, all we can say is, we hope he Plays it, not Tortures it.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

WHEN the Class of 1926 entered High School it seemed at first much like every other class that had preceded it. Yet now in reviewing its four years of accomplishments, it can be seen that this class has had just a little finer spirit and a little better perspective of school than any of the other classes.

In the Freshman year it organized The House, held the first Freshman Party in years, formed a good interclass football team, won the volley ball championship and, not forgetting its studies, had sixty-three members in the Scholarship Club.

In the Sophomore year there was no slump in the quality and quantity of the accomplishments of the class. The class party was a most enjoyable affair. The girls kept up their good work and captured the basketball championship. It is remembered that the Sophomore issue of The Purple and White was one of the best of the year.

However, it was in the Junior year that '26 distinguished itself the most thus far. For, after winning the volley ball championship, running off a fine party and editing a good issue of the Purple and White, and having done its share in Class Day, it held the best Junior Prom in years. It departed from precedent by limiting those eligible to attend to members and graduates of the school, and by introducing those much talked of tickets, it put on a dance that was a truly school affair of the highest order.

Remembering its success in the Prom the Class of '26 started its Senior year resolved to make the last the best. Jaqueline James, the first girl president of the General Organization, was elected from this class; a distinction we are proud to record. On Thanksgiving Eve it carried through to a most successful conclusion the Senior Dance. The next class function was the Senior Play, "Under Cover," which was termed by many as the best amateur performance they had ever seen. For the third time the girls won the volley ball championship. They did not mean to be greedy but just could not help winning. However, they deserve much credit for their record. The year book next claimed the attention of the class, and it is hoped that it will be as successful as its other efforts have been.

Throughout these four years the Class of '26 seems to have admirably maintained the impetus of its excellent beginning. It has done very well along all lines of student activity, as shown in dramatics by "Under Cover"; in athletics by the girls' string of championships; in social events by the class parties, the Junior Prom and the Senior Dance; and in the Scholarship Club. Since it is the last Senior Class that will graduate from this memorable old building, we can surely be proud of the well-rounded record this, the Class of 1926, has to its credit.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF 1926

WE, the inimitable and supereminent Class of 1926, finding ourselves on the brink of our sadly lamented exit from the dear old Alma Mater, desire to present a few gifts, hoping that they may partly compensate for the tremendous and all but overwhelming loss our passing on will cause. Therefore we hereby declare this our last will and testament, annulling and pronouncing void and unconstitutional all previous promises, wills and willnots.

First: We bestow upon that object which has caused us joy, pain, tears, laughter, and mental paralysis; to wit, N. R. H. S.

1. 6 miles of black crepe, 13 17/46 tons of ashes, and 32 funeral wreaths with which to decorate itself in mourning for the Class of '26!

2. A fish-net, collars, muzzles, leashes, kennels, and genuine, bone-shaped, puppy biscuits, for catching and maintaining all canines found inside the school.

Second; to the Faculty:

1. We bequeath two quarts of Bermuda's Best to aid them in their tearful rendition of "Where Will They Go From Here, Boys?"

2. We gladly, joyfully, WILLINGLY return all that vast store of facts, fiction, and fancy absorbed during our incarceration in this torture chamber.

Third: Because our sister classes have the misfortune to remain on the rack a few more years, we, world-renowned for our nobleness, sympathy, and kindness, desire to alleviate their pain in so far as lies within "our poor power to add or detract." Therefore we demise:

1. To the class of 1927, the honor of occupying the distinguished position in the new school, which we would fill, if the combined forces of our all-knowing minds and generous hearts were not too powerful for the arch fiend, Regents the Red. We also leave several of our number who were so strongly attracted by that building's beauty that they have received an unique grant from Albany to occupy a chair in it for one year at least.

2. To the class of 1928, the promise that no longer must they slaughter Caesar, but may, in the Fall, find Mr. T. Cicero awaiting them with fountains of words "full of sound and fury," signifying something.

3. To the class of 1929, the sad news that no longer can they sleep until 11:30; but the good news that they are now eligible to join the Afternoon Scholarship and A-Snowball-For-Every-Freshman Clubs.

4. To the class of 1930, a flock of electric coolers, some springless pogo sticks and the hope that the excitement of life without a recess will not prove too great a strain for their little minds.

Fourth: Because we feel in a facetious mood, we present to:

1. The traffic squad: A kennel of blue-ribbon retrievers to flush and to bring in jaywalkers.

2. To the chess club: Electrified feather dusters with which to charge the players and thus stir them into consciousness and perhaps action.

3. Mr. Handy: Another Henry Rubin to beguile the hours with long words and flowery expressions.

4. No one in particular: Parking space for all the stray pieces of tin which assemble near the school.

5. The proposed swimming team: Our cellar in the spring after the usual thaw and rainfall.

HISTORY OF CLASS OF TWENTY-SEVEN

OFFICERS

President	WILLIAM VALERY
Vice-President	DOROTHY DELMAR
Secretary	ROSAMOND DOERING
Faculty Adviser	MRS. TOWNSEND
Faculty Adviser	MR. BAKER

HIS INCOMPARABLE HOLINESS ADOLPHUS AURELIUS laid down his peacock quill and sighed. In the long marble hall there were innumerable small persons with scant hair, scant wings and huge mops. On a table of indefinite shape sat His Musical Holiness Gabriel, polishing a silver trumpet.

"I vow," quoth Adolphus, "keeping the Histories of the Classes in the Book is a tedious task. It hath been with exceeding joy, however, that I have followed the History of Twenty-seven—a truly remarkable one indeed. From mere Freshmen, no larger and wiser than yonder cherubs, have they ascended the ladder. For two years one William Lane hath been their leader. Now one William Valery holds the honor. As a Freshman one Dorothy Delmar was secretary, as a Sophomore and Junior none other than vice-president. The Sophomore secretary was one Eleanor Simonson, and she is succeeded by one Rosamond Doering.

"This class do I find abounding in the earthly virtue of school spirit. The members of Twenty-seven are found in activities of every sort. And let me not forget those beacons in times of distress—The Class Advisers. In truth they will enter this kingdom with haloes."

At this moment the silvery voices of The Angels' Choir blended into the Hallelujah Chorus and floated through the open casement.

"Ah, so very apropos indeed," quoth Adolphus, taking his quill, a satisfied smile hovering over his countenance.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

President	JOHN HARTREY
Vice-President	MARIAN PRICE
Secretary	GERTRUDE VOLAND
Advisers	MR. H. B. NICHOLS, MISS A. LECOUNT

WITH the same fine spirit and school ambition that we had when we entered the Freshman Class in September of 1924, the Sophomores of this year are still going strong.

On entering, in the year of '24, the Freshies showed the spirit they had, by reorganizing the House, the Freshman Debating Club. They supported the G. O. strongly and subscribed to the P. & W. in large numbers. The class officers were Lolita Berea, President; Robert Lippoth, Vice-President, and Marian Price, Secretary.

In reorganizing this year they have as their leaders John Hartrey, Marian Price, and Gertrude Voland to pilot their ship of state, who with the help of the registration room representatives carry on the work of the class at regular Sophomore Council meetings.

Now this class of '28, starting anew, are very anxious to conquer the fields of social and athletic fame. They have four varsity men on the football team and a letter man and a good number on the second varsity basketball squad. The girls, not to be outdone by the boys of their class, have a large number on the second varsity; and Anna Lukacs, a Sophomore, has the honor of being elected captain of the varsity basketball team, an honor very seldom gained by a Sophomore.

In the inter-class basketball series both boys and girls have been very active, playing the game clean, fair, and hard, and winning the praise of their fellow school students for their fine sportsmanship, which in itself is of more value than victory in the game.

The class put its big social event of the year over in true style. It was the Sophomore Party. The party consisted of an entertainment, refreshments, and dancing. Those who were present enjoyed themselves immensely.

The class supports the G. O. and other organizations of the school very strongly, and has a representation in the Scholarship Club and other societies of the school.

HISTORY OF CLASS OF 1929

President	BENJAMIN PLATT
Vice-President	ROALD MORTON
Secretary	MILDRED KAHN
Faculty Adviser	MISS UPHAM
Faculty Adviser	MR. H. J. GRAYBILL

IN the fall of 1925 about seven hundred eager students came from the Grammar Schools of the city to the High School wishing to be Freshmen.

The spirit of wanting to learn was unusually good, and from the start the Class of '29 showed what they were capable of doing. School had been under way but a short time when the Freshmen debating society, known as "The House," with about seventy members, started one of the most successful years it has had. The Freshmen showed their eagerness for something new by organizing the Camera Club which has been recognized as a school club. Among the gym classes a cross country team was formed which developed about four good runners for the school. When winter came, again the spirit of '29 came out with a hockey team formed for the first time of Freshmen. This team played the Juniors and won.

As a result of their desire to learn, about eighty-five of the Freshmen who had not wasted their first term in a scholastic way were elected to the Scholarship Club after midyear examinations.

In the spring a new sport organized by Freshman boys was baseball, which had a successful year. At the same time, boys from the gym classes went out for track, and the track team of the school has much to expect from a few of the Freshman runners.

The outstanding event of the year for the Freshmen was the election of class officers: Benjamin Platt, President; Roald Morton, Vice-President, and Mildred Kahn, Secretary. The class held successful meetings with the President presiding. Another important event was the Freshman Party, which came off with unusual success. In June more than two-thirds of the Freshmen moved up a step and became Sophomores and will be the first entering class to complete the full three years at the new Woodrow Wilson High School.

From the excellent start of this year the Class of '29, under the supervision of the faculty advisers, Miss Upham and Mr. Graybill, have a most promising future before them.

THE General Organization is the medium through which the pupils become co-workers with the faculty in the management of the school. Established in 1921, it has steadily increased in influence and importance until it is no longer an experiment but a workable and working scheme for a school democracy. It bridges the gulf between faculty and students, giving to many of the latter excellent practise in assuming responsibility, thus fitting them for greater responsibilities later in life.

The governing body, known as the Council, is composed of about twenty pupils and six members of the faculty. This Council charters all school clubs, sanctions and supervises the social functions, and through the treasurer, a member of the faculty, handles the finances of all school activities.

Special service to the school is being rendered by the Traffic Squad and the Lost and Found Department, and other lines of service will be undertaken in the near future. The General Organization of New Rochelle High School is a successful example of student co-operation in school government, which is filled with possibilities for yet greater usefulness.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION COUNCIL OF GENERAL ORGANIZATION

Chairman, Junior Representative	RICHARD THURSFIELD
Secretary, Senior Representative	ALICE WENCK
Faculty Adviser	MR. CLIFFORD S. BRAGDON
Faculty Adviser	MISS LOUISE FLAGG
Boys' Athletic Representative	MR. DANIEL O'BRIEN

Senior Representative	EDWARD DEROCHEMONT
Junior Representative	ARTHUR ALVORD
Sophomore Representative	ALBERT MAYERS
Freshman Representative	DONALD KNIGHT

PROBABLY the most important committee authorized by the General Organization is the Athletic Committee. To it is referred all matters pertaining to the athletic interests of the school, such as the selection of assistant managers for all teams, determining the budgets for all sports, making the awards of letters to athletic teams, deciding the division into major and minor sports, etc. Since this committee exists by the authority of the General Organization, its actions are not binding until approved by the General Organization Council. This arrangement provides a system of checks and balances which prevents rash action or extravagances in the management of the athletic interests of the school. As a result, the athletics are on a sound financial basis, each year showing a substantial balance on hand; yet all teams are well provided with good uniforms and ample equipment.

In former years, only boys were considered eligible for participation in athletics, but now the athletic committee finds its duties enlarged to include a variety of sports for the girls, the most popular being tennis, basketball, field hockey, volley ball, and baseball.

TRAFFIC SQUAD

Captain.....PHILIP McKEE
Captain.....MARIA CHAPMAN
Faculty Adviser.....MR. WALLACE B. BOWMAN

THE Traffic Squad started in the New Rochelle High School in 1924. Each year it takes over new duties for the benefit of the school. This squad consists of two captains, a girl and boy, elected in alternate years; lieutenants, sergeants, and guards. The lieutenants have charge of different parts of the school such as, halls, stairs, lunchroom, and assembly. The sergeants are responsible for having all the places of duty, which consist of two stations on each floor, filled during each period. The duty of the guards is to be sure no one passes through the halls during periods without a pass. By this method classes are not disturbed by students passing through the halls. The traffic squad is one step nearer student government, which has worked so successfully in many colleges and is now progressing rapidly through the efforts of the General Organization and Traffic Squad in New Rochelle High School.

TRAFFIC COUNCIL

G. O. Council Representative.....	RICHARD THURSFIELD
Girls' Representative.....	ELIZABETH McEVOY
Boys' Representative.....	FRED GRAF
Traffic Squad Representative.....	MARIA CHAPMAN
Faculty Adviser.....	MR. WALLACE B. BOWMAN

THE Traffic Council was established in 1925 for the purpose of trying all cases of those persons who in any way violate the rules of the Traffic Squad. The members of the Council are appointed by the President of the General Organization and consist of a representative from each of the following: girls, boys, General Organization, and Traffic Squad, and also a faculty adviser. This Council does not aim to punish; it aims to help. When an offender is brought up for the first time, if his case is not too serious, he is given a warning and perhaps some office on the squad whereby he may help to correct others who are making the same mistake as he did. After he is brought up a second time the Council inflicts punishment to a degree seeming most appropriate to them. The Traffic Council hopes to insure co-operation between the students and Traffic Squad.

THE COURT OF HONOR

Vice-President	HELEN HENDRICKS
Secretary	BETTY FERRY
Faculty Adviser	MRS. G. W. AMIS
Faculty Adviser	MRS. G. CHRISTY

SEPTEMBER, 1925, the Court of Honor opened its second year under the General Organization.

As provided by the Constitution, boys who were recommended by the Faculty for outstanding service to the school were admitted to membership.

A special pin has been designed for the club, and the members are now enjoying the privilege of wearing these pins. Pins are to be sent to the alumni members of the club.

Although the club is an Honorary Club, its purpose is to promote high ideals and sportsmanship and to be of service to the New Rochelle High School. A great deal has been done in this way, especially in the girls' gymnasium.

The most important thing accomplished this year is a special reward system for girls obtaining a certain number of points in athletics. This has to be approved by the General Organization. It is hoped that a similar one for the boys will be adopted.

Faculty Adviser	MR. C. S. BRAGDON
Faculty Adviser	MISS L. E. FLAGG

THE Scholarship Club has been steadily growing until now it is one of the largest and most active organizations in our school. The four classes of the school are all represented in its membership, but the Freshman enrollment of eighty-three members stands out above the rest.

The club has this year lived up to the standard set in previous years. It has had speakers come to talk before the members at the monthly meetings. Certain members of the club also have given interesting talks. Some other plans which have not been completed before this book goes to press are a presentation of Tony Sarg's Marionettes in "The Pied Piper" and "Treasure Island" to be given on May 1, and a field day in May, which is to take the place of the regular monthly meeting.

LIBRARY CLUB

THIS year has proved to be a very successful and progressive one for the Library Club, under its adviser, Miss Lawson. The first event of the season, the presentation of the movie, "The Goose Hangs High," was a great success. Then came the annual party, which all heartily enjoyed. Groups of the members have visited the New York Times and Herald-Tribune plants, which were both instructive and interesting. Sketches from various books have been given by the club in assembly. The last of the social gatherings, which took place early in June, was a picnic, where games were played and supper was served in true picnic fashion.

Last year the club contributed to the scholarship fund instead of presenting a gift to the school. Having enjoyed five years of activity in New Rochelle High, the Library Club is looking forward to many more in the new Woodrow Wilson High School.

LE CERCLE FRANÇAIS

President	DOROTHY EATON
Vice-President	FREDERICK A. LOWENHEIM
Secretary	EDNA SHIMM
Faculty Adviser	MR. GEORGE E. GREELEY

PARLEZ-VOUS français? We certainly do at the French Club's meetings. The meetings which are held about once a month are conducted in French so that those taking French are given an opportunity to acquire practice in speaking it.

Those who have passed French II at a grade of B or over, or who take French IIb and receive A in it are eligible for the club. The meetings have been very entertaining. Two plays, under the direction of Frederick Lowenheim, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, have been given.

The club is a member of the Federation of the French Alliance and plans to send delegates to the convention at the Hotel Plaza, New York, so that it may learn what other French clubs are doing. The club hopes to keep up its good work in the future under its adviser, Mr. Greeley.

EL CIRCULO CASTELLANO

President	ALFRED HOWARD
Vice-President	WINNIFRED GATEHOUSE
Secretary-Treasurer	ELEANOR FANELLI
Faculty Adviser	MR. EUGENE F. FLAHERTY

EL CIRCULO CASTELLANO is the organization which, in connection with the Spanish department of our school, strives both to create interest in the natural use of the Spanish language and to acquaint its members with the literature, customs and history of the Spain of yesterday and the Spain of the present.

To become a member of this club it is necessary to be enrolled in one of the classes studying advanced Spanish or to have passed the Spanish Regents. Students taking first year work who show great ability and who have an average of ninety per cent are also admitted to membership.

Mr. Flaherty, our faculty adviser, deserves much credit. Through his efforts the club secured and presented an interesting Spanish sketch, "El Criado Astuto," at one of its early meetings.

THE HOUSE

President	ROBERT FROST
Vice-President	CLARENCE JONES
Secretary-Treasurer	HOPE CRAMPTON
Faculty Adviser	MR. DEWITT D. WISE

THE House was organized about the middle of November with a membership of one hundred.

The highlights in this year's program were as follows: A debate on the question of Immediate Phillippine Independence, followed by an open discussion; an open forum on the industrialism of China, and a play entitled, "Young America". The cast consisted of five characters and the play was a mock court scene.

Because of the exceptional merit in the work of some of the members, the "House" pins were awarded to them in the second semester.

An unusually successful year was ended by the customary House party in May.

THE SENATE

President	DAVID CRAMPTON
Vice-President	HENRY LEWIS
Recording Secretary	CHARLOTTE HAAS
Corresponding Secretary	JACK KAHN
Faculty Adviser	MR. T. R. BRENTON

THE Senate is an organization founded for the purpose of developing interest in debating and public speaking.

Members of the Senate represent New Rochelle High School in the annual debates of the Westchester Triangular Debating League, composed of teams from the high schools of New Rochelle, Yonkers, and White Plains. The question for this year was, "The Westchester County Charter Should Be Adopted."

The debates this year proved of unusual interest. The League tried out a new plan, the English (Oxford) debating system. At each of the three schools, the affirmative was made up of one speaker from each school; the negative team was similar in organization.

Jack Kahn, Rebecca Klibanow and Beatrice Saqui represented New Rochelle High School on the affirmative; Helene Nieschlag, Henry Lewis and Richard Thursfield on the negative. Albert Mayers served as alternate.

The League has not reached a definite decision regarding the plan to be used next year.

THE CHESS CLUB

President	HENRY LEWIS
Secretary	RUTH VAN WERT
Faculty Adviser	MR. ARTHUR B. HUSSEY

	{ HOWARD SMITH
	{ EGON LACHNER

CHESS—the game that chivalry was wont to play, the game that can trace its lineage back to the dim old days of Oriental splendor and power, the game of queens and knights, and kings and castles—chess is flourishing within the prosaic walls of New Rochelle High School.

The constitution of the Chess Club was approved by the General Organization in 1923. Since then the membership has grown steadily. Several persons interested in learning how to play the game have been taught by the members. Two tournaments have been played; one in the fall to select its chess team, and another in the spring. The latter participated in a handicap tournament.

The Chess Club is grateful to Mr. Hussey for his interest in the Chess Club, and to Miss Lawson for her permission to keep a set of chessmen in the library.

THE CHESS TEAM

Faculty Adviser..... MR. ARTHUR B. HUSSEY

THE Chess Team last year won the Westchester County Championship and the first leg on the cup, presented in 1925 by Mr. Albert Borgzinner of New Rochelle, to the high school whose chess team should win the County Championship for three years. The following are the scores of the three championship matches:

New Rochelle, $3\frac{1}{2}$	White Plains, $\frac{1}{2}$
New Rochelle, 4	Yonkers, 0
New Rochelle, $3\frac{1}{2}$	Mt. Vernon, $\frac{1}{2}$

Davis Baker and Howard Smith won three games and lost none. Paul Eaton and Henry Lewis each won two games and drew one.

In a post-season practise match, White Plains defeated New Rochelle $2\frac{1}{2}$ games to $1\frac{1}{2}$.

The Chess Team challenged the Faculty to a match, which challenge was accepted. The match, however, had not been played at the time of this writing.

THE GLEE CLUB

Director.....BERNARD B. NYE
Accompanist.....ALITA MERCEDES CRAFT

ALL hail to the Glee Club of 1925-26!
 Under Mr. Nye's leadership the club meets every Monday and Wednesday and sings good music of much variety and interest. It contains as members students of every class in the school who find much enjoyment in the singing.

The club made its debut of the season by successfully presenting the Triple Quartet in the Christmas assembly program with Christmas songs. Another feather was added to the cap of New Rochelle High School when the 1926 operetta, "The Bells of Beaujolais," was produced in the auditorium, which was crowded to capacity by most appreciative audiences. The operetta was a complete success and the participants may well feel proud of their efforts. This club took part in celebrating Music Week by presenting a very interesting program at the music festival. Its last public appearance of the season came with its participation in the Westchester County Music Festival, May 21, 1926.

THE ORCHESTRA

Director.....BERNARD B. NYE

THE picture shows the instrumentalists in our school who play as members of the Junior and Senior orchestras, made up of thirty and forty-five players, respectively. The instruments represented are violin, viola, 'cello, bass, flute, clarinet, oboe, saxophone, trumpet, horn, trombone, drums, and piano.

The orchestras meet for practise once a week and play at assemblies, for operettas, at concerts, music week festivals, and at numerous other public events.

As is to be expected, the plan for orchestral study is educational, the pupils receiving training in the playing of good music of varied types ranging from symphonic compositions to lighter pieces, all of which prove to be of much interest to the players and the student body of the school.

It is with great pleasure that we note from year to year the steady growth of this element of our school musical activity, one which is far-reaching in its cultural influence.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB

President.....HELEN LAYCOCK
Secretary.....ROSAMUND DOERING
Faculty Adviser.....MISS VIRGINIA B. CLARY

THE activities of the Dramatic Club have been somewhat curtailed this year due to Miss Wees's illness and prolonged absence. In February, however, Miss Clary became the adviser and plans were then made for the rest of the year. The usual monthly programs were resumed. At the March meeting, Miss Stuart, the professional coach of the high school, gave an interesting talk about her actual experience. The April program consisted of monologues and papers on the development of the drama, given by different members of the club. At the last meeting a play is to be presented but the selection has not been definitely decided upon as this goes to press.

THE SENIOR PLAY

Dramatic Coach.....MISS JULIA STUART

THE Senior Play, "Under Cover," this year was a little different from anything we have given as yet. It was a drama with all the thrills and mystery of a detective story, but with a strongly sympathetic heart interest running through it. It had a long run in New York and was written by Roi Cooper McGrue, who is also the author of "It Pays to Advertise," which was one of the most successful offerings.

THE ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB

President	HELEN LOBDELL
Vice-President	LUCINDA CLEVELAND
Secretary-Treasurer	OLINSHA BERRYMAN
Faculty Adviser	MISS SELMA ENGELBREKT

THE Arts and Crafts Club was organized in 1924 under the supervision of Miss Engelbrekt, art instructor, with the purpose of stimulating the study of Arts and Crafts in the New Rochelle High School. Any present member a previous member of the drawing classes is eligible.

Last year at Christmas the club held a very successful sale of hand painted Christmas cards and other articles. The proceeds of this sale are to be used to buy some new models for the art classes and a picture for the school.

The latest work taken up by the members of the club is that of stenciling silk scarfs and handkerchiefs with a new type of paint.

The varied work that the Arts and Crafts Club is continually doing holds the interest of the members, thus making it one of the most active organizations of the school.

SENIOR BANKERS ASSOCIATION

Manager.....DAVID CRAMPTON
Faculty Adviser.....MISS E. WARDLE
Assistant Faculty Adviser.....MISS B. W. ADDIS

THE Senior Bankers Association was chartered by the General Organization in the spring of 1925. The chief undertaking of the association this year was the presentation of a comedy, "Bank Book Jimmie," written by David Crampton.

The association functions through the Peoples Bank For Saving of New Rochelle. Tuesday is the banking day and the average receipts are about $400 a week.

FRESHMAN BANKERS ASSOCIATION

President	RUFUS MURRAY
Vice-President	CHRISTINE BARBER
Secretary	RICHARD OVERTON
Faculty Adviser	MISS E. STURTEVANT

THE Freshman Bankers Association has successfully promoted an interest in banking in the Freshman class this year. Every Freshman has a bank account and many are systematically saving each week. The class is very proud of its weekly record, the per cent of those present who deposited for the first term being 95.4, and for the second term 98.9. The total savings at the present time amount to $4,062.96. The association meets once a week to discuss banking problems. Each member receives a monthly copy of the Educational Thrift Gazette which keeps the class informed concerning thrift in other schools throughout the country. The association has contributed an article to the Gazette this year. To observe banking on a large scale, the bankers have visited the Clearing House and the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

THE JUNIOR RED CROSS

President	MABEL RICHARDS
Hon. Vice-President	VIVIEN GORDON
Secretary	MURIEL SWEET
Faculty Adviser	MISS LOUISE E. FLAGG
Faculty Adviser	MISS ETHELWYN WARDLE

THE purpose of this club is to work in conjunction with the Red Cross Organizations, and to give help and service in the school and community wherever it is feasible.

The Junior Red Cross has had many and varied activities this year. A Hallowe'en party with entertainment and refreshments, was taken to forty-five children at Grasslands Hospital. Office assistants have been provided for the dean's office. Help was given to the New Rochelle Hospital Drive. Bulbs ready to bloom were sent to Colburn Home. Contributions were sent to the Albanian Vocational Schools and St. John's Floating Hospital.

The walls of the dining rooms and chairs of the children at Grasslands were decorated with appropriate designs.

At present the Red Cross Service Club is composed entirely of girls. Meetings are held the third Friday of every month and membership is open to all.

LOST AND FOUND

Chairman.....MARGARET ALLEN
Faculty Adviser.....MISS CLARA JONES

THE Lost and Found Bureau consists of ten students and one faculty adviser. The work of this bureau is to take care of any articles that have been found around the school and try to return such articles to their rightful owners. Through the system students are enabled to recover many lost articles by identifying them to the satisfaction of the official in charge. The officials of the Lost and Found Bureau have office hours from 12:30 to 1:00 P.M. every day in Room 111, thus enabling Freshmen as well as upper classmen to hand in any article they may have found or make claims for lost ones. Articles found during school hours may be handed in at the office with name and registration room of the finder; but, no articles may be claimed at the office at any time. The finder may claim articles two weeks after finding.

THE TRACK CLUB

President	DOUGLAS FAIRWEATHER
Vice-President	WILLIAM VALERY
Secretary	HARRY ROSENBAUM
Faculty Adviser	MR. DANIEL P. O'BRIEN

THE Track Club was started in the New Rochelle High School with the purpose of fostering track and field athletics. Each year a high jump and pole vault pit is made back of the school by the members of the club. This gives the opportunity to the pupils of trying their ability at this type of sport. The club has written several letters of congratulation to alumni of the school who have achieved worthy feats in college. In the library of the school they have placed an album with pictures of members of the past and present track teams of the school. They are now working on a list of all the past and present school records. For the coming year the club is planning a large banquet at the close of the track season. The club is now considering a series of indoor track meets during the winter months.

THIS year, the staff of the P. & W. Bulletin has been constantly striving for two things. First, the editors and reporters have endeavored to attain more perfection, journalistically, in regards to the general appearance of the paper. Secondly, and perhaps more important, they have tried to make each issue more interesting to the students than the preceding number.

Among the year's innovations are listed cartoons, the "poisonal and antidote" column, farce articles, open letters, and discussions, both editorial and general on current topics of school interest.

THE ROCHELLEAN

CLASSES may come and classes may go, but the ROCHELLEAN goes on. The Class of 1923 published our first Year Book, which constituted a comprehensive and attractive report of all the classes for that year. This first volume was a success. Succeeding expanded and improved volumes have been issued annually.

This is volume four of the High School journal and, in all probability, the last to come from the present school building. It is the earnest desire of the Editorial Staff that it may serve to link this school with the Senior High School and that it may keep pace with future efforts in that institution.

Good luck, ROCHELLEAN of 1926. May those for whom you were printed glance through your pages with pleasure and may you refresh our memories in years to come.

THE SCHOOL LIFE WE ADORE

The banging of locker doors,
The tardy pupils' roars,
The bells, and the shuffling of feet,
The friends we turn to greet,
Form the school life we adore.

The feelings of dismay,
When we hear the teachers say,
"You may now recite,"
Or "That's not quite right,"
Form the school life we adore.

The feelings of relief,
When we've almost come to grief,
O'er work done none too well,
And rings the dismissal bell,
Form the school life we adore.

The assembly's weekly call,
Looked forward to by all,
The joy that always greets
The music and other treats,
Form the school life we adore.

Our victory songs and cheers,
Resounding through the years,
The censure, advice, the praise,
Moulding our future days,
Form the school life we adore.

But now we Seniors find
We must leave these joys behind,
And with a mournful sigh
Must turn and say "Good-bye"
To the school life we adore.

—MARION I. LEVINE.

SENIOR DANCE

THE Annual Senior Dance was given by the Class of 1926 in the Mayflower Auditorium on Thanksgiving Eve. The Senior Dance is an annual school affair given in the fall by the graduating class. The committee this year worked very hard to make the dance surpass all given in past years and feel that they have succeeded, both socially and financially. It was held on that plan inaugurated by the class when they gave their Junior Prom last year, and everything was done to make the dance one that New Rochelle High School could be proud of sponsoring.

G. O. DANCE COMMITTEE

IN March a committee, consisting of David Crampton, Chairman; Jacqueline James, Peggy Fahy, William Lane, Anna Lukacs, Roald Morton, Helen Rennicks, and Harrison Harper, was appointed, and began preparations for the Second Annual G. O. Dance. Under the direction of Miss Shear, faculty adviser, the date was set for April 30.

The gymnasium of the High School was beautifully decorated, representing a Spanish setting. The committee deserves special credit for the novel way in which balconies hung with shawls were used to help gain this effect. This committee attended in Spanish costume, and added quite a touch of color. A tango exhibition by Kenneth Anderson and Margery Ferguson was the feature of the evening. Six girls, under the direction of Mrs. Christie, gave a dance also. There were several feature dances with prizes besides the foregoing. About one hundred and eighty people attended the dance, and everyone enjoyed himself thoroughly to the strains of the Monterey Orchestra.

Although not a financial success, due to the extremely low price of admission, the committee deserves the thanks and commendation of the school for the work they put in.

THERE are dances and dances, but the biggest and the best social event of the year is the Junior Prom! This is the one time when the alumni can be with us, and with studies behind us we can thoroughly enjoy the good time promised to us by the committee. The Class of '27 which has often shown its worth in many ways, is already planning through its capable committee under the able leadership of William Morton and its advisers, to hold a Prom unrivaled by any ever given in the school.

FOOTBALL

Captain.....VINCENT DRADDY
Manager.....WILLIAM FENTON
Coach.....MR. CHARLES WEBER

DUE to the delay caused by the death of Mr. Johnson, the 1925 football team had a late start. The beginning of the season found us with but three letter men and a squad of about sixty candidates, green but willing to learn.

The team lost its first game to East Orange on October 10. The next Saturday, the team, having well recovered, defeated Fordham Freshmen 6-0 with the aid of William Morton's trusty toe.

On October 24, we won our first county game on one of the muddiest and muggiest days of the season. The home town by the mud flats found themselves badly walked on with a score of 20-6.

The morning of the Yale vs. Army game at New Haven, the New Rochelle seconds were defeated by Milford Prep 17-0. The game gave good experience to a great many green players. That afternoon the greater part of the squad saw Yale defeat the Army in the Bowl at New Haven.

November 7, with Yonkers, marked the second county victory for us. The Purple and White was victorious in one of the closest games ever held at City Park, 9-6.

The following Saturday, before one of the largest crowds in Westchester football history, the Purple and White went down before the greatest and best coached football team that Mount Vernon has ever produced.

On November 21, the crippled Purple team again were defeated, this time by White Plains.

By way of conclusion, the 1925 season has been a success in two ways: First, it afforded experience for a great many players who will be in school next year; and second, the season was the greatest success financially that New Rochelle has ever experienced. Although this team failed to win the championship, it is one we shall long remember.

BOYS' BASEBALL

Manager.....STEPHEN WRAY
 Coach.....MR. GEORGE GREELEY

THERE has been an abundance of splendid baseball material this year. Its quality has even surpassed that of last year's team. With the exception of Hayden, all last year's veterans are back for another season. As never before, half the candidates were Sophomores. The team was, at first, in sore need of pitchers, but Nardoizzi, a new-comer, has already shown his ability to pitch. Hartrey has been found an efficient catcher, while Maxwell plays better than some of the letter men. Mr. Greeley has been coaching the team for a short time; yet in three days he accomplished what any other coach would have taken a month to do. He has wonders yet to accomplish with a team composed of Howard, de Rochemont, Morton, Huntington, De Paul, Brown, Hartrey, Maxwell, Laurence, Palumbo, and Rotundi.

CREW

THE favorite motto of "Marty" Roberts, Crew Coach, would seem to be, "Tempus Fugit". Since the first work-out in the middle of February, "Marty" has been utilizing every minute in an earnest endeavor to turn out a winning combination of oarsmen. This task has been made difficult through a lack of proper material, although two letter men from last year's boat have helped matters considerably. A fine second crew has been developed, which furnishes keen competition for the Varsity boat.

The Yale Interscholastic Regatta at Derby has been discontinued, and in its place the crew is scheduled to race Kent School at Kent on May 8.

With the uncertainty of the schedule taken into consideration, it would be foolish to predict much at this early writing, but whatever the outcome, the crew has done its utmost to bring added laurels to the coach and to the school.

BOYS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

Captain.....FRED GRAF
Acting Captain.....LEON KAHAN
Coach.....MR. DANIEL P. O'BRIEN

STARTING with only one letter man from last year's team, Kahan, the Basketball Team won two and lost four of its preliminary games. After the exams, with Captain Graf eligible, the games of the Western division of the W. I. A. A. got under way. New Rochelle was beaten in all of these games, landing in fourth place. The two games with Mamaroneck, the corresponding team in the Eastern division, were well played and resulted in victories for New Rochelle, the scores being 22-20 and 21-16.

If the team had been as well supported at all the home games as it was at the last one, nothing more could have been desired, but the attendance at most games was small. The shortcomings of the students in this respect were made up by the perseverance and good sportsmanship of the players and Mr. O'Brien's hard work.

The following received first team letters: Captain Graf, Kahan, Lof, Bleiweis, Trotman, Hartrey, and Rosenbaum. Of these, Kahan, Hartrey, and Rosenbaum, as well as the whole second team, will be back next season, so New Rochelle may expect to be near the top instead of the bottom in 1927.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL

Captain	ELIZABETH McEVOY
Manager	ALICE WENCK
Captain-Elect	ANNA LUCACS
Coach	MISS DOROTHY KRIETE

THE Girls' Basketball Team has this year brought home an undefeated team. It has broken all the records made in previous years. This year the girls have defeated Mt. Vernon twice in the same year. This has been made possible by the untiring work of our coach, Miss Kriete, the co-operation of the girls and their willingness to do what should be done.

Each year the aim of the team has been good sportsmanship, team work, and a victorious team. In previous years good sportsmanship and team work have been achieved, but this year we have added a victorious team.

Too much praise cannot be given to our coach, Miss Kriete, for her untiring work in securing the co-operation of the girls which has helped to develop such a fine team.

The following girls have made their first team letters: Captain Betty McEvoy, Captain-Elect Anna Lucacs, Beatrice Saqui, Wilma Ballin, Mabel Richards, Ruth Porter, Katherine Blood, Hilda Price, Margaret Stahl, and Faith Searles. The others received second team letters.

TRACK

Captain.....DOUGLAS FAIRWEATHER
Manager.....RICHARD GEORGHEGAN
Coach.....MR. D. P. O'BRIEN

THE track team has just successfully completed its season and is already laying plans for next year, when the new athletic field will, we hope, be at our disposal. The team this year has been a good all-around one with a few real stars and a fair quota of second and third places. The schedule included five meets in the following order:

May 1—Cornwall at Cornwall.
 May 7—Triangular meet at Gorton.
 May 14—White Plains at City Park.
 May 22—County meet at Travers Island.
 May 29—Intersectional meet at Scarsdale.

In all the meets the team as a whole acquitted themselves well; and with a little good luck, next season will be the best yet.

CROSS COUNTRY

Captain	EDWARD DOYLE
KINGDEN PROCTOR	ROBERT WATTERS
ALEXANDER HARPER	NATHAN SHERMAN
Coach	MR. DANIEL P. O'BRIEN

NEW ROCHELLE High School Cross Country Team of 1925 ranked high among the cross country teams of the state. Starting with only two letter men, another of the squad of 1924, and the rest new men, the team soon developed and won its first race, defeating, among others, Gorton High School which was considered the strongest team in the county, at the Knights of Columbus Field Day. In the New York State sectional race the team obtained six places from the first seven. The team then travelled to Syracuse to compete in the New York State Championship. Considering the long trip and an unfamiliar course, the team did fairly well. In the Columbia Interscholastic race Captain Doyle duplicated Jimmie Craig's ('22) feat in placing second. The Westchester County meet saw New Rochelle High School suffer defeat from Gorton High School who had been improving steadily. However, the team fared very well during this year, owing to the untiring efforts of Coach Daniel O'Brien.

HOCKEY

Captain.....EDWARD DE ROCHEMONT
Coach.....MR. CHARLES WEBER

THIS year once more New Rochelle turned out a Hockey Sextet which rivaled the best that the state was able to produce.

Under the able leadership of Captain de Rochemont and with the assistance of Mr. Charles Weber and Turk Smith of the Knickerbocker Hockey Club, New Rochelle entered upon another ice season, which gave fame and glory to the members of the team.

Five games were played, two with Greenwich, two with Mamaroneck, one with Riverdale, one with Hackley, and the final contest with Schenectady for the state championship. The Purple and White Sextet was victorious in all seven contests. The one for the championship went to New Rochelle by a score of two goals to none.

Among the men who comprised the team were: Captain and centre, de Rochemont, King, Morton, Remensnyder, Scott, the Goalie, Kalaba, Thompson, and Huntington.

BOYS' VARSITY TENNIS

Captain and Manager.....JAMES E. TROTMAN
Coach.....MR. DONALD SMITH

THE Tennis Team has great prospects of a successful season. Most of the last year's letter team was lost by graduation, but through the untiring efforts of Coach Smith we finally have developed a well-balanced team.

The team of 1925 hung up an enviable record, winning six out of seven matches. Among their victims were Riverdale, Horace Mann, Concoria, Pelham and Yonkers. Pleasantville, Gorton and Mamaroneck have been added to the schedule, making the fight much harder. In former years New Rochelle has always been represented by strong teams and the student body means to keep up the good work. Approximately thirty fellows have been reporting regularly for practice, which means the forming of a good team next year.

BOYS' INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

Coach.....Mr. DANIEL P. O'BRIEN

THIS year, under the able supervision of Mr. O'Brien, the interclass games were a great success. Each class was represented by three teams and the average of the three teams determined the championship. The championship was captured by the Juniors, winning 21 out of 22 games. The Seniors and Sophomores showed great class spirit and turned out teams which gave a good account of themselves. Most of the competition was between the Juniors and the Sophomores. The Sophomores had a very good team and gave the Juniors a good fight.

The following boys received their numerals:

PAUL MARSLAND
WILSON KING
WILLIAM HEPBURN

CARL BEHREND
DAVID CRAMPTON
HARRISON HARPER

GIRLS' INTERCLASS BASKETBALL

THE 1925-26 interclass tournament was won by the class of '27, although the race for the cup was very close. Both the first and second team results were taken into consideration, since each class had its two teams which played against the corresponding teams of the other classes.

In addition to the regular tournament games, the Juniors went over to White Plains and defeated the County Seaters' junior team in a game which not only showed the Purples' excellent playing ability, but also Miss Kriete's coaching prowess.

The members of the first team were Maria Chapman, Ruth Crystal, Gertrude Daley, Rosamond Doering, Elizabeth Drey, Helen Hanson, Lucine Kroyer, Dorothy Seeger, Alice Whitman.

THE baseball tournament of 1925 was won by the class of '26. The Sophomores were eliminated in the very beginning by both the Seniors and the Juniors. The fight remained between the Seniors and the Juniors. Their game resulted in a tie of 9-9. Two extra innings were played with the Seniors at the bat. The last inning resulted in a score of 0-0 with the Juniors at bat.

The best hitters were up—one out, two out—surely the game would go to possibly another inning. No, the Juniors got busy with two strikes and three balls, then a nice grounder, runner reached second base, next batter sent her home. The game was over with the Juniors in the lead and champions of Interclass Baseball for 1924-25.

GIRLS' INTERCLASS TENNIS

Coach	MRS. ALICE AMIS

ON September 29, 1925, the Girls' Interclass Tennis Tournament was opened at the New Rochelle Tennis Club courts. Each class had a team of six players, two of whom played in single matches, and four in doubles.

Constance Grayson, of the Junior team, defeated Beatrice Saqui, Senior, and Frances Sandbloom, Sophomore. Wilma Ballin, Junior, defeated Josephine Roberts, Sophomore, but was defeated by Ruth Bauman, Senior. The Junior doubles team, composed of Elizabeth Drey, Mary Metcalf, Geraldine Scholl, and Mary Simonson, defeated both the Senior and Junior doubles team. The Juniors, having won five out of six matches played, won the tournament, and were awarded their numerals, and the tennis cup to be held for one year.

GIRLS' INTERCLASS VOLLEY BALL

Manager	DORA MEYERSON
Coach	MISS DOROTHY KRIETE

FOUR years ago Interclass Volley Ball Tournaments were started. The Freshmen, Class of '26 were the first champions. This year, the girls of the Class of '26 won the silver loving cup for the third time, having lost it to the Juniors in their second year. So many girls came out for volley ball that two teams were formed from each class. The Sophomores and Juniors started the tournament off. The Sophomores won three out of four games from the Juniors. The Juniors then lost four games to the Seniors. The Sophomores also bowed down and forfeited the four games to the Seniors. There were several girls on the Senior team who had made the team for the fourth year. They received number 19's with their 26's, thus bringing honor to their class as the first in the school to have won number 19's. The following girls won double numerals:

Dora Meyerson, Manager; Betty McEvoy, Kathryn Lauer, Beatrice Saqui, Metta Stoll, Margaret Stahl, Ghizella Rosenfeld, Minnie Leaf, Irene Rosengarten.

Other girls receiving single numerals are:

Cecile Bock, Lucille Bergman, Margaret Weiher, Marjorie Peyser, Kathryn Blood, Mary Broder.

THE MAJORS' CLUB

A. M. Club President—First Term	RUTH PORTER
Second Term	FAITH SEARLES
Secretary	LUCINE KROYER
Faculty Adviser	MRS. GLENN B. CHRISTY
P. M. Club President	GRACE CHRISTOPHER
Secretary	DOROTHY CALDWELL
Faculty Adviser	MRS. ALICE AMIS

THE Majors' Club of the New Rochelle High School was organized in September, 1925, by Mrs. Christy, with the aid of the acting majors of the upper class gym periods. The purpose of the club is to develop efficient leaders, and to further the girls' athletic activities. The A. M. Majors' Club was so successful the first term, that it was decided to organize a second division for Freshman sections with Mrs. Amis as faculty adviser. Both clubs meet once a month. Work is done by committees chosen by the president. The key committee restores all lost keys to their proper owners; the gym uniform committee returns unclaimed uniforms to the owners; and the locker committee is responsible for keeping all lockers locked. The upper class section has an advisory committee which acts as a guide to the Freshman Club.

Although these organizations are still young, they have been very successful in assisting the settlement of difficult problems of student government connected with physical training classes. The clubs are working hard to establish honor and to produce good sportsmanship and leadership among the girls, not only in the gym, but throughout the school as well.

CHEER LEADERS

Head Cheer Leader	KENNETH ANDERSON
LESLIE JACOBSON	ERNEST NACHER
ALEXANDER BROWN	EDWARD STORCK
Faculty Adviser	MR. D. P. O'BRIEN

AFTER the beginning of school in September, tryouts for cheer leaders were held. These tryouts were conducted by having the candidates lead the Freshman gymnasium classes.

Finally, a squad of five was selected. This squad began its work at the football games where a great deal of spirit was aroused. At the basketball games, however, the crowds dwindled and little cheering was done. But, with a winning baseball team and the attendance at games increasing, spirit once more will be aroused. At track meets, crew races, and tennis matches, cheer leaders will be present.

The squad wishes to express its appreciation to Mr. O'Brien for his interest and fine co-operation in making the cheer leader's squad a good one.

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

The New Rochelle High School Alumni Association has had a rather disrupted year, owing to the fact that a number of its officers, including the President and Councillors, have either left town or were obliged to resign for other reasons.

The Council has inaugurated a membership campaign and is making every effort to increase the number of active members in the Association.

The Alumni Association is taking an active part in the New Rochelle High School Scholarship Fund Association, and is assisting in their drive for additional funds.

The Officers and Councillors at the present time consist of:

President—Harold B. Lovejoy.

First Vice-President—Burton Price.

Second Vice-President—Dorothy McKay.

Secretary—Mildred Lopez.

Treasurer—Ernest Beeton.

Councillors:

Kenneth Huntington

Marcia Bouton

Howard Miller

Eleanor Bechtel

Grace Schopp

Eleanor Irving

A Suggestion---

Many a plain gown has suddenly become attractive with the addition of a beautiful silk scarf.

Several such scarfs can be bought for the price of one gown, and each scarf serves to make a different costume.

Isn't this a worth-while thought for the woman who must limit her dress expenditures?

ALMA MATER

There looms a light in the distance
Of days and years spent at school,
Of times spent in classes and hall-
ways,
Of books, of pencils and rule.

There appears again in the distance,
A light, but of different hue,
Reports and calls to the office,
A card with red on blue.

And as I recall the laughter
Of the boys and the girls in the halls,
The light grows brighter and brighter
Around Alma Mater walls.

NEW ROCHELLE HIGH SCHOOL

It grieves us much to leave thee,
Oh school that brought us cheer,
The lessons that you taught us,
Will be forever dear.

If we are loyal, wise, and true,
And fit to face all foes,
These qualities were gained through you,

Their worth we'll never lose.
They're as a lamp unto our feet,
Their brilliant beams will blind defeat,

And help us win life's war.

EDITH CICCIONE, '26.
